Getting ready for the night of witches and goblins takes a lot of preparation and on Tuesday, jack-o'-lantern sculptors John Doherty, Robbie Pearsell, Darcy Granger and Harry Hutchings inspected their work in readiness for the big night. The boys are in Mrs. Hagerman's grade 3 class at Victoria St. School where they received instruction in the art of pumpkin cutting.

AHM wants county council to check library overspending

Anson, Hindon and Minden township council will ask Haliburton county council to investigate overspending by the Lake Ontario Regional Library System.

The charges were stated in a letter from Lennox and Addington County to all the municipalities who receive the services of the library system, which also serves Haliburton county council. The county is asking these municipalities to endorse a proposal stating that the library system review their spending and to make recommendations to the library board.

The system has a $500,000 budget acquired from grants. Subscribing municipalities contribute funds to the county library system, who, in turn, subscribe to the system.

In the letter, the county outlined several instances in which they considered the system to be overspending.

"Recent inflationary trends in the general economy have necessitated financial restraints upon library spending at the local level...It has been increasingly evident that...the Lake Ontario Regional Library Board, does not reflect this trend to restrain in the use of public monies."

The letter listed several instances where they felt the board had overspent.

"Proposal to build a new regional headquarters facility at a time of restraint; purchase of extravagant, non-functional delivery vehicles; purchase of library materials, some of which are redundant and without consultation of member libraries; expensive promotion of the Lake Ontario Regional Library System as a discrete entity to the detriment of local authorities; and the continuation of expensive, non-communicative internal literature."

The reasons for the overspending, the letter says, is a "lack of direct and viable communication with the professional librarians and member library boards within the Lake Ontario Library region."

Council will make a recommendation to county council to investigate the charges made by the County of Lennox and Addington, to find out if the accusations are true.

The letter asks for endorsements from all municipal councils and library boards in the Lake Ontario Library Region, W.L. Rodde, Provincial Library Director and the minister of culture and recreation.

Two municipalities respond to request for arena funds

Two other municipalities have responded to a request from Anson, Hindon and Minden council for additional funds to help offset costs for the Minden arena.

Letters from Snowdon and Stanhope townships, two neighbouring municipalities were received by council last Wednesday.

Council had made the decision to ask adjoining municipalities to contribute funds in September, and until now, only Somerville township in Victoria county replied.

Council reasoned in September that since costs to all figure skating and hockey users are the same and the arena board awards deductions on township ratepayer's taxes, perhaps outside users should have to pay extra for the use. The rationale behind the decision was that since there are many cottagers who use the arena far less than the average residents of the township, this would not be an effective method.

Council decided that, as a result, a request for funds from neighbouring townships would alleviate the problem, and the additional funds could come directly from the ratepayer's pockets through the particular municipalities. Somerville township wanted details of how many of their residents use the arena, approximate cost the township is requesting, and details of the request itself.

Stanhope township sent a reply stating that the request made by council will be tabled until the beginning of their 1979 fiscal year, when the council will make a decision on whether to contribute funds or not.

Snowdon township was the only one who sent a contribution out of all the municipalities asked. Snowdon council decided to send the sum of $50 towards arena costs and want details of how many persons from Snowdon use the arena.

"It's big coming from Snowdon," said reeve Reg Booth, "because we've never got anything from them before."

Both Galway township in Peterborough county and Lutterworth township have not responded to the request as yet.

87-park plan updated

AHM approves master plan for park

After years of discussions and amendments, Anson, Hindon and Minden township council finally approved the master plan for the Minden township park last Wednesday.

The 87-acre park, which was originally conceived in 1968 when the township first purchased the land, is actually an updated plan of a master plan which was started at that time.

On June 28, township council authorized Totten, Sims and Hubicki Associates of Toronto to review and update the original plan, which had been completed by Mitchell Associates.

And the changes Totten, Sims and Hubicki made has satisfied the council at Wednesday's meeting, since little discussion over the plan occurred. The park will be situated in a lot north of the Gull River and east of Bobcaygeon Road. Existing facilities now include an arena, a baseball diamond, tennis courts and fairgrounds.

The updated park will include an expansion of the existing tennis courts, a proposed library museum, campgrounds with 30 sites, a curved.

Galway-Cavendish township passed its comprehensive zoning bylaw in October.

Copies of the bylaw, which is designed to regulate the use of land in the township, will be circulated for three weeks to ratepayers in Gal-

Township all-candidates meeting was tame affair

More than 60 persons attended the Dysart et al township all-candidates night at the auditorium of the community centre last Monday.

It was a tame affair which lasted less than 90 minutes. A few questions were asked about education, industry, sidewalks and the Canadian National Railway line between Haliburton and Kinmount.

Incumbent reeve Murray Fearrey, who has been acclaimed fielded most of the questions.

Each candidate running for council and board of education was allowed five minutes to present his reasons for running in the November 13 municipal elections.

Incumbent deputy-reeve Harold Bannon said he is "very proud" of the accomplishments of the council over the past two years. The township, he explained, is financially sound.

He said he would like to see Department of Regional and Economic Expansion (DREE) funds available to Haliburton County and a road needs study undertaken in the township.

Newcomer Tim Casey, who is challenging for the post of deputy reeve, admitted that "no great issues" existed in the election in Dysart.

He would like to see more planning in the county roads department, a natural ice surface on the baseball diamond, operation of the booth at the community centre subject to tender, the arena auditorium turned over to the senior citizens, more ice time for figure skating and the care of patients at Hyland Crest Senior Citizens Home placed in the hands of Minden doctors for a six-month trial period.

"Running a municipality has become a complex and complicated thing," he said.

Ward 1 incumbent Roy Brohm wants to serve another term, but "it would be my last term."

He stated that council has accomplished a great deal in a short period of time.

"Our progress is evident," he said.

He is being challenged by newcomer Michael Easton, who has previous municipal experience in Victoria County.

county-wide social services program, wants the federal government to designate Haliburton County eligible for DREE grants, would hold the line on taxes and endorses the programs on crime prevention conducted in the county.

"I pledge to do my utmost best," he told the gathering. Ward 2 incumbent Gary McKnight stated council is working diligently to attract industry into the area. The economy of the area is improving with the expansion of several local businesses, he explained, which has created employment.

"We do need additional industry," he said, "and council is pursuing it."

Creating an outdoor ice surface on the baseball diamond, as suggested by newcomer Casey, he explained, has been tried in the past and has not been successful.

Newcomer Robert Nichol, who is challenging McKnight said he is interested in the development of the township.

He said he would make every effort to attract industry into the township by offering long term tax breaks.

"I have a desire to serve the people in Ward 2 and the municipality as a whole," he stated. "I enjoy helping the people at the grass-roots

North American animal park may locate in Haliburton

Council seek new industry

Dysart et al township council has initiated a feasibility study at a cost of $5,000 to investigate the possibility of locating a North American animal park in the township, according to reeve Murray Fearrey.

The project was revealed during a question and answer period of an all-candidates meeting last Monday in the auditorium of the Dysart Community Centre.

A ratepayer was questioning council about its efforts in attracting industry to Dysart when the reeve revealed the plans of the council.

Several locations in Haliburton village are being considered, said reeve Fearrey.

"Council has an interested party to operate the park who has the expertise and proven ability," the reeve told The Echo in an interview.

The name of the party involved is being withheld, explained the reeve, because competition over the project is very stiff. He added revealing the name could destroy any possible opportunity of the industry locating in the area.

The animal park, which would include activities for children, is expected to require a financial investment of $500,000 by the interested party.

The study has been underway since the summer and is expected to be completed by January.

Following completion of the study, the document will be presented by council to Industry and Tourism Ministry officials.

"Council is very confident this type of development would benefit Dysart and the county as a whole," stated reeve Fearrey.

He revealed it could create as many as 20 jobs and would complement the present facilities in Haliburton County.

"If it becomes a reality," he said, "its effects on the county will be enormous."

The animal park would blend with present projects in Dysart, such as the development of a park at Head Lake, completion of the new museum and renovations to the Canadian National Railway Station, he stated.

He feels it would benefit the entire tourism industry in Haliburton County.

Scarborough man drowns on weekend in area lake

A 48-year old Scarborough man, Norman P. Cooper, drowned last weekend in Big Trout Lake in Longford township.

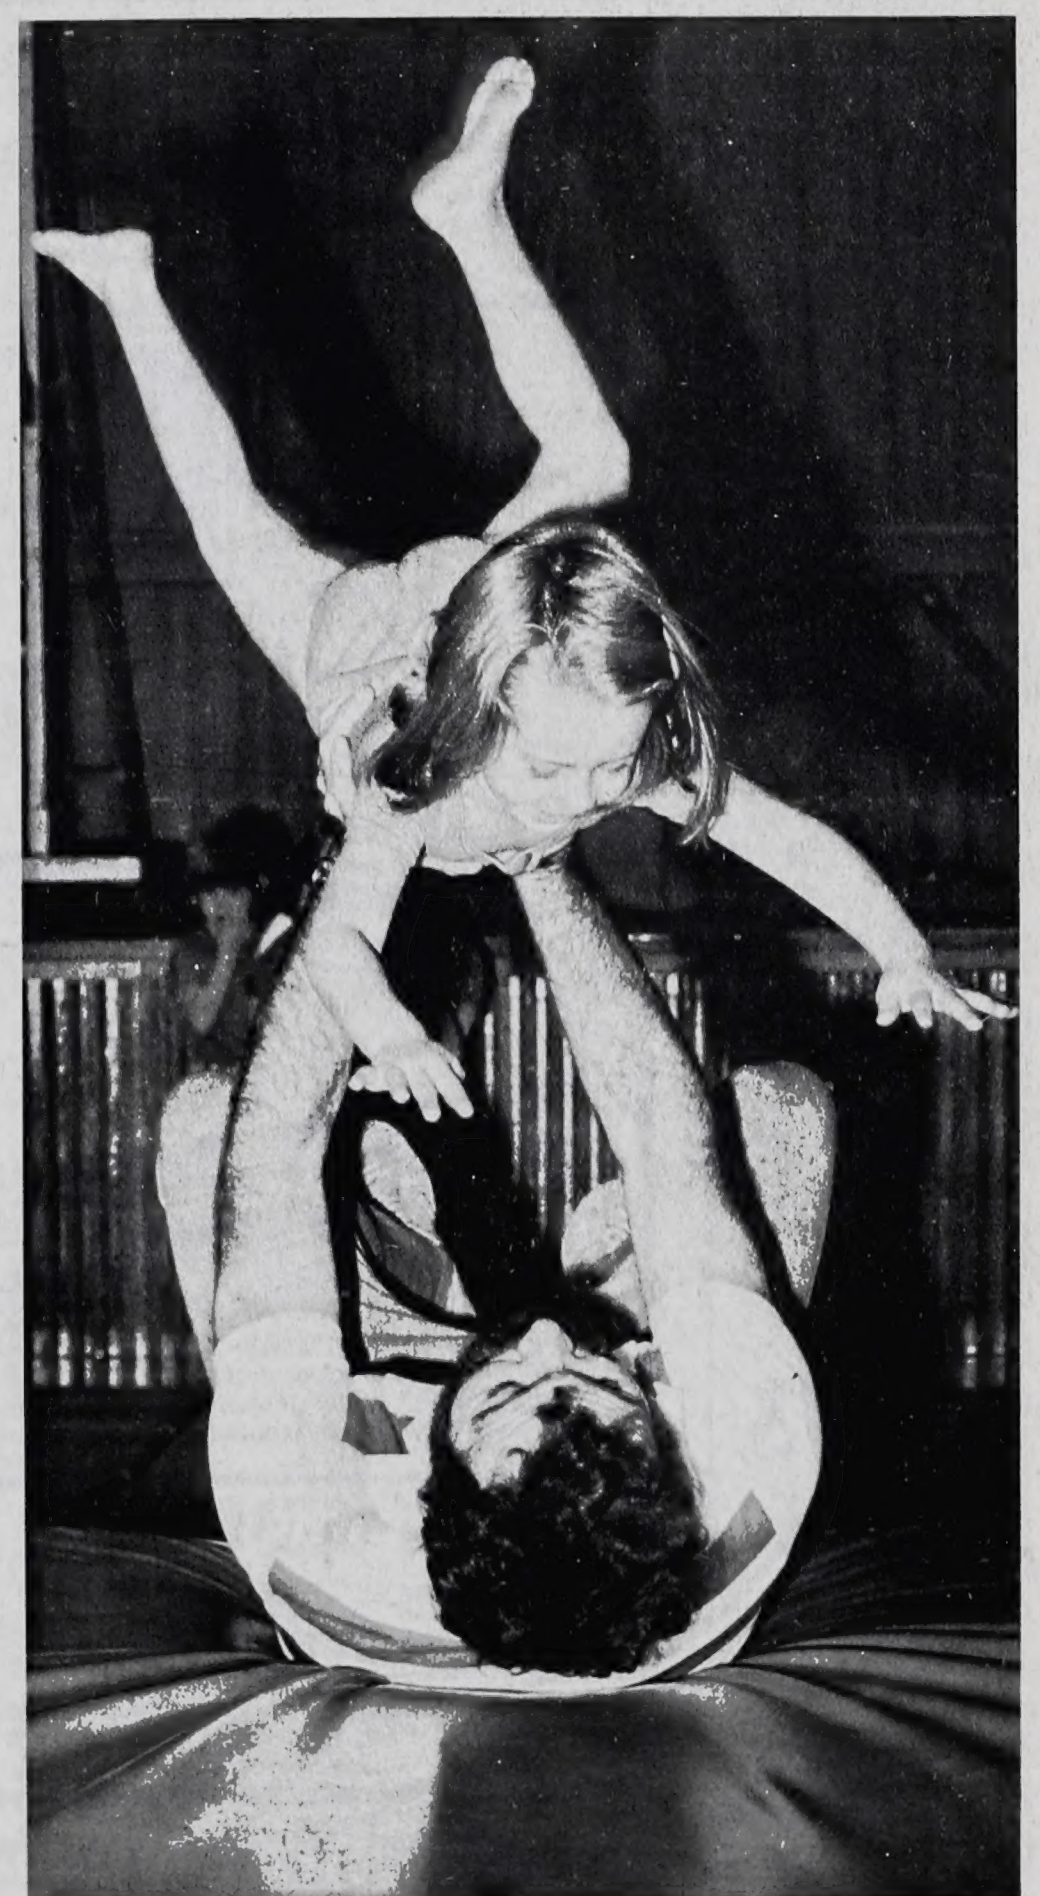

Provincial police from the Minden detachment said Cooper was staying at a hunting camp with Robert A. Boytter, of RR3, Warkworth. Cooper, reported police, went out fishing about 9:30 p.m. and his companion went to bed.

About 6 a.m., Boytter woke up and realized that Cooper was not in the camp. He went to investigate and found a 12-foot aluminum boat with a 10-horsepower motor upside down at the far end of the lake.

Cooper's body was located underneath the boat, said police.

Coroner Dr. R. E. Jamieson of Cobocok investigated the death. No inquest or post-mortem will be conducted.

The mishap was investigated by provincial constable Gary Chapman and corporal D'arcy Stevens.

Up, and over! This happy little gymnast gets a hand at a flip from school teacher John Fitzgerald. The program, which was held at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Saturday, was offered by Sir Sandford Fleming College. Exercises included various vaults, floor hockey, balance beam techniques and freestyle jumping.

Livestock producers start limestone project in county

The Haliburton County Livestock Producer's Association is embarking on a project to raise the pH levels in the county's soil by applying limestone.

The low pH of almost all soils in the county has caused problems with the production of good crops over the years, according to president Bud Kirchner.

Crops such as alfalfa, trefoil and clovers die off very quickly, he explained, and grains, corn and grass hays usually give lower yields.

"The Livestock Producer's Association have been concerned about this problem and have been looking at various ways to overcome it," he said, in the association's newsletter.

The only way to raise the pH is to apply limestone, he revealed. Various sources of limestone exist and the limestone classed as 'Agricultural Limestone', it does not do a good enough job to be worthwhile.

No sources of agricultural limestone exist in or near Haliburton County and trucking it over a distance can be expensive, he explained.

"After checking out various sources of agricultural limestone and comparing prices," he said, "the Association executive feels that the co-op in Orillia can provide the best limestone at the best price."

The association feels that the sooner farmers in Haliburton County get some agricultural limestone on their fields, he said, the sooner they can grow more crops and get better yields.

"Thus we are willing to help by co-ordinating the purchase of limestone and the use of the co-op spreader," explained Mr. Kirchner.

Housing for approval

If objections justify it, an Ontario Municipal Board hearing may have to be conducted.

The passing of the zoning bylaw passed by council ends 18 months of work, which

Ratepayers hear candidates

More than 130 people showed up at the Stanhope Fire Hall last Saturday to listen to candidates running for reeve, deputy reeve and councillor make their bid for votes.

The seven men running for five positions on the council each gave an outline of their proposals before the crowd. A question period was held afterwards.

Also in attendance at the meeting was Leroy Eager and Dorothy Kinsman, both of whom are acclaimed school board trustees. Since Nesbitt, former reeve of Stanhope township and candidate for the reeveship of Anson, Hindon and Minden township, also attended. Gerald Bain, Stanhope clerk, was chairman at the meeting.

Bill Barber, who is running for the position of reeve, was the first to speak. The main proposal Barber brought up was his suggestion "to run the township on a more business-like level." Barber, who is a newcomer to the race, emphasized that if the fire department were run in such a fashion, firefighters could become part-time employees and be forced to adhere to certain rules and regulations. Barber also proposed offering payment for the firefighter's services.

Barber said that he was also "concerned" with the county planning strategy that "there is no obvious planning."

"We should review this strategy and have a close look at what it will mean for us," he said.

Barber's opponent, Jim Harrison, spoke next and emphasized in his speech to the gathering that the council's past accomplishments and his own experience on council qualified him for the position of reeve. Harrison is currently deputy reeve for the township.

"Every effort will be made to rehabilitate the fire department," said Harrison, "and roads will be of major concern."

Deputy-reeve candidate Douglas Cruthers proposed that township residents make use of "home industries" and produce goods in their own homes to supplement their income.

Cruthers raised the point that people are not aware of the numerous subsidies available to them through the federal and provincial government, and if elected, he would make the public more aware of these by bringing in "experts" to introduce these various services.

"OHIP could probably be subsidized by at least 80 per cent of the people who don't even know it could be paid for," Cruthers said.

Elgin Stouffer, who is running also for deputy reeve, said he would propose an increased awareness of the marketing possibilities of lumber in the area.

"We have a timber potential of 40,000 acres and we're lucky if we get 10 per cent of this into dollar flow," said Stouffer. "The effective value coming out of these trees is worth five times the amount of income from the tourists."

Incumbent councillor Harry Davis joked with the audience when it was his turn to speak, saying that "I'll have everyone hugging and kissing before the night's out." Davis came into the meeting late, covered in confetti and explained "you can see I haven't been to a funeral."

Davis did not have any solid proposals prepared, but said that "we should try to overcome our weaknesses and capitalize on our strengths."

Incumbent councillor Elvin Johnson raised the issue of the planning strategy.

"The strategy will complement the bylaw (restricted area), and I sure would want to get this county together with it," he said.

Johnson also talked mainly of past accomplishments of the last term's council.

Roger Woods, a newcomer and challenger for the post of councillor, admitted that "I'm not fully aware of the problems surrounding the township, but I will strive to do my best if elected."

Woods added that he understands the basic problems surrounding the fire department, since he is a firefighter on the force, and would not be in favour of airport expansion.

Police investigating three break, enter and thefts

Provincial police from the Minden detachment are investigating three separate break, enter and thefts which occurred over the weekend.

The front window of Brohm's Variety store in Haliburton village was broken and tape recorders, hair dryers, electric shavers, cameras, an eight-track stereo, a record player, clock radios and some figurines were stolen.

The incident occurred early Sunday morning, reported police.

Damage to the store window was estimated at $679, while the value of the stolen goods was estimated, $980.

The occurrence was investigated by provincial constable Brian Dunham. The front window of Shamrock Shell in Haliburton was broken and a quantity of cigarettes stolen early last Sunday.

Damage to the window was estimated at $800, while the cigarettes were valued at $62.

Provincial constable Mike Smith investigated the incident.

A Finlay cook stove, valued at $1,200, was stolen from a cottage on Park Lake, north of Dorset.

The cottage is owned by Thomas Conlin of Huntsville. The incident was investigated by provincial constable Bill Clendenning.

Eakins questions social minister about juveniles

Speaking in the Legislature October 24, John Eakins, Victoria - Haliburton MLA questioned the Minister of Community & Social Services as to why it was necessary to send juveniles, who were apprehended, to Belleville to be held overnight.

Eakins pointed out that this was very unnecessary, and a very expensive procedure, especially when adequate but separate facilities could be made available at Kawartha Lakes School.

The minister, the honourable Keith Norton, expressed surprise that facilities closer than Belleville were not available to the Lindsay and Peterborough areas. He assured the Victoria - Haliburton member that he would look into the situation as raised, with the hope that some more convenient accommodation could be realized.

Eakins said that it was very costly and time consuming to have officers drive all the way to Belleville with juveniles, who were being detained, especially when facilities could be made available much closer to their own area. He also said that the court facilities, especially for Family and Juvenile Court, were disgraceful in the Victoria-Haliburton area, and intends to raise the question very shortly with the attorney-general.

Police investigate mishaps

The Minden detachment of the provincial police investigated four reportable motor vehicle collisions and 66 general occurrences during the October 23 to 29 activity period.

Police also reported 12 break-ins, charged four persons with liquor act violations and delivered a compassionate message.

Pilot forced down due to lack of fuel

A pilot from Dorval, Quebec, was forced to make an emergency landing at Minden last Wednesday when he found he was low on fuel.

The pilot, Mark MacAvlay, was enroute from Dorval to Owen Sound. He landed his aircraft in a field behind the office of Dr. J. W. Lodenquai.

He stayed overnight, refueled and continued on his journey the next day.

West Guilford resident wins $1,000

"I thought somebody was pulling a joke on me," was Mrs. Marjorie Bain's reaction when she first found out that she'd won $1,000 in the Bank of Montreal draw last month.

The West Guilford resident discovered that she had become the lucky recipient of the money when she phoned the Bank of Montreal branch in Toronto to answer the skill-testing question which went along with the draw.

"Then the girl told me I had answered the question correctly, and that I'd be hearing from the bank here in Haliburton in a couple of weeks."

When those weeks passed, Ron Hore, manager of the bank, informed Mrs. Bain that she had officially won.

"I thought it was all a joke," she said.

Winning is not new in the Bain home, however. Three years ago, Mr. Bain won a car in a Rotary draw, and, in the same year, was the lucky winner of a colour television set.

"But this has been the first time I've ever won anything," Mrs. Bain added.

The happy winner says she has no definite plans for the money, and is keeping it in the bank for the time being.

Stanhope hopefuls put on 'hot seat'

Stanhope candidates were on the 'hot seat' about the issue that seemed to concern everyone at the all-candidates meeting held last Saturday - the township's volunteer fire department.

Over 130 people showed up at the hall to listen, question, and, in some cases, criticize seven candidates running for five positions open in the upcoming municipal elections.

Undoubtedly, the biggest issue on the ratepayer's minds at the meeting was what the candidates plan to do to solve the rift which has formed in the fire department over the past months.

During the question period toward the latter part of the night, several questions related to the solutions the candidates had to offer.

Bill Barber, who is running for the position of reeve, was the target of most of the questioning concerning the department. Barber stated in his candidates speech that "the only way to solve these internal problems in the department is to put it on a more business-like footing."

Barber proposed that the $15,000 a year budget the fire department currently is operating under go towards token payments for the firefighters. The move would constitute jurisdiction over the firefighters since the men are receiving payment, he said. The men would become "part-time employees", said Barber and this would put the department on a businesslike level.

Several people questioned Barber's proposals. Roger Woods, who is running as councillor, brought up the point that if the department is currently operating on a $9,000 fixed expenditure, and $6,000 left out of the budget to buy new equipment, "where would that token payment come from?"

This and other related questions had Barber on the spot throughout the night, but a question was posed to candidates, Elgin Stouffer and Roger Woods concerning their intent to stay with the fire department if they were elected.

"I don't feel I should have to resign from the department," said Stouffer, a veteran of the department.

"It's a free county and I'll stay with the department as long as I can."

Woods, who is also a member of the department, stated that he would resign from the department if elected.

"I don't think it would be fair to the people and if I stayed, it would be in a Cont'd. page 7 level."

Board of education incumbent trustee Earl Cooper said he was encouraged by the slate of candidates who are seeking election.

Administering the education system in Haliburton County is a "very costly business."

Incumbent trustee Tom Little said he would do his best as a trustee on the board. He was appointed last spring following the resignation of a member of the board.

"I am running because I have three children in the education system and am interested in young people in the community," stated incumbent trustee Len Salvatore.

Newcomer Barbara Bolin feels she has an understanding of the education system and wants to become involved by seeking election.

"I am here to make my contribution to the community and am vitally interested in education," newcomer Bill Davis stated. "I will guarantee the best education at the lowest possible dollar."

Newcomer Derrell Stamp admitted no issues existed in the election. He said he is "keenly interested" in the education system and feels he can contribute to it.

"I will represent the residents of Dysart to the best of my ability," he stated.

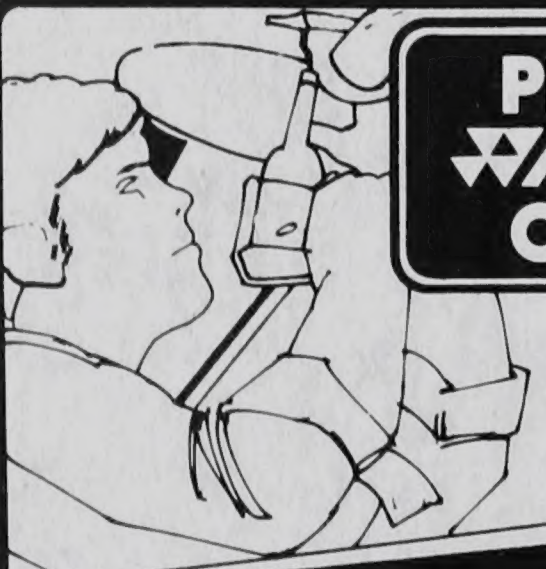

Newcomer Nancy Stinson said she is running because she wants to become involved. She explained she is interested and willing to serve the community as a member of the board of education.

Robert Stinson, a newcomer, is interested in the long range planning which faces education systems with declining enrolment and a surplus in the teaching profession.

Government spending, he stated, has to be reduced in the province.

One newcomer, Brian Abbs, was absent from the meeting.

Acclamations

Acclamations in municipal elections signals apathy among residents.

When half of the seats on the 14-member Haliburton County Board of Education are filled without a contest or several municipal politicians are returned to office without a fight, it adds up to apathy.

Five incumbent trustees and two newcomers won re-election to the board of education without challenge. Three reeves, three deputy-reeves and a councillor were re-elected to another two-year term without any competition.

Lack of competition denotes lack of interest on the part of residents.

Running for municipal office, whether as a member of a school board or township council, does place great demands on an individual's time.

It requires an understanding family, who realize numerous meetings must be attended and various projects must be carried out.

The position is on 24-hour a day demand on an individual's time.

But those interested in the affairs of their particular area should be willing to, at least, offer themselves as possible alternatives to present trustees or members of council.

When trustees or municipal politicians retire from office, interested individuals should be waiting in the wings to take their place.

It is encouraging to notice 91 candidates in the November 13 municipal elections seeking 46 seats on school board and municipal council.

Apathy can increase and spread unless sufficient interest in running for municipal government is generated in a community.

Residents should take a greater interest in the dealings of its school board for municipal council.

If such interest exists, it is unlikely apathy will appear in a community.

In some communities in Ontario, nomination deadlines had to be extended to finally locate individuals willing to run for office.

The deadline was stretched an extra 24 hours in a northwestern Ontario township in order for the clerk to find individuals who were willing to offer themselves as candidates.

In other communities, incumbents were returned unchallenged by acclamation.

Acclamations in municipal elections is a sign of growing apathy among residents.

If apathy is to be avoided in future municipal elections, more residents should become interested in the affairs of their community.

Recreation

A township which cannot afford to construct its own recreation facility, but must travel to another township for recreation should be allowed to use the facility on a pay as you use basis.

The user fee is an excellent means of obtaining additional revenue required to operate such a facility.

Since the taxpayers of the municipality where the facility is located are paying the major share of running the operation, additional funds can be obtained from the user fee scheme.

Funds received from residents of other townships who use the facility help alleviate the problem of operating costs.

An excellent example of how the scheme works is Monmouth township.

Monmouth charges the same user fee for residents of the township using the recreation facility as those who come from outside the township.

The recreation facility was constructed at Monmouth with help from surrounding townships, which donated funds to help offset the initial cost.

By contributing to the operation of a nearby facility, a township avoids placing any unnecessary tax burden on its residents.

Residents from a township without a facility have two choices. They can construct their own facility at considerable expense or contribute to the operation of a nearby township on a user fee basis.

The user fee scheme is the best method for residents from a township with a facility to enjoy the benefits of such a facility.

A HARD MAN TO REPLACE

Arthur Maloney is going to be a hard man to replace. Mr. Maloney, who has been the province's ombudsman for the last three years, is leaving the office to step back into his criminal law practice.

His often thankless job as ombudsman has involved investigating reports and complaints lodged by private citizens against government agencies. The position of ombudsman was first created in Scandinavian countries when government officials became concerned that the rights of the ordinary citizen were being threatened by the increasing red tape of the government bureaucracy.

In the time he's been in office, Arthur Maloney has investigated complaints of people being illegally detained in the province's mental health centres, cases of land expropriation by government agencies and the complaints of residents of the province's penal institutions. As the province's first ombudsman, Mr. Maloney has also devoted considerable time to publicizing the office and making himself available to the public at open sessions held around the province.

The ombudsman has earned harsh criticism from members of the government who feel Mr. Maloney is spending too much money in fulfilling his job or else is interfering in matters best left up to the elected members of government.

Whether these criticisms are justified will be partially answered by Mr. Maloney's successor who doesn't face an ennobling task in filling his predecessor's shoes.

We hope Ontario's second ombudsman will overlook his own personal political beliefs to the same extent Arthur Maloney has in the past in his role as guardian of the rights of the individual.

In an increasingly complex world, the ombudsman's office is one of our most effective government watchdogs.

SMILING FACES

There were certainly many smiling faces in and around the Clinton hospital last week, when the board of governors received written approval from the Ministry of Health to go ahead and update the fire safety standards of the hospital, with the ministry paying two-thirds of the cost.

Although the mini never said so in so many words, the approval of the renovations is like telling us that our hospital will be open for some time to come, and the community can enjoy all the benefits of the best health care system in the world.

All the hospital board, the staff and area people can certainly be pleased that they all had a part - large or small - in saving the hospital. Only two years ago, a deaf Ministry of Health decided to close our hospital without any good reason or consultation with the people which the closing would hurt the most.

But the people in the area, no matter how few in number when compared with the huge bureaucracy in Toronto, fought long and hard to retain one of the community's best assets, and for that all should give themselves a pat on the back.

Feir Play

by Creighton Feir

Well, I am back following two weeks vacation and I notice that a lot of things haven't changed too much. In the sports world, the Argos are still losing, the Leafs aren't what you might say, upsetting the world and we are finding that the Montreal Canadians are human after all. The question seems to be, are the Canadians falling apart or is the league as a whole that much stronger. It is my opinion, that the other teams in most cases are getting better and the Atlanta Flames are one good example. As I write this column they are undefeated in nine starts and they could be for real if you will recall they finished very strong in the latter stages of the N.H.L. schedule last year and they seem to be carrying right on from here. Some people will say that we are watching a watered down game of hockey since expansion but it looks from here that we are going to better hockey as time goes on. Two excellent games were played last Saturday night when Boston beat the Leafs and the new look New York Rangers were too much for the Montreal Canadiens. Both games were old time hockey played at its best.

I certainly don't have to remind you that it's municipal election time in Haliburton County. Most of the Meet the Candidates Nights are over and we are thrilled to see the large turnouts at practically every meeting. Most of these meetings have been very lively and in most cases the present councils have come under fire. In many of the municipalities, the voters seem to be dissatisfied and they want some changes made. There seems to be one exception and that is in the Municipality of Dysart et al where there seems to be very few issues and the ratepayers seem to be quite satisfied with the progress that has been made in the past two years by the present council. We are also pleased to see that three young fellows have thrown their hats into the ring and have shown a great interest in municipal affairs. I have always been interested in politics and was sorry that I missed some of the Meet the Candidates meetings when I was on holidays. I did manage to attend the meeting held in Haliburton on Monday night along with sixty other people. It was a well run meeting with an excellent slate of candidates running for both council and the Board of Education. The question and answer period brought very few questions from the floor. If there was an issue at this meeting it had to be the lack of industry for a better year round economy.

While sitting at the Meet the Candidates night at Haliburton on Monday evening and looking at all the candidates sitting up at the front seeking office the thought came to me that we seem to put all the onus on council and forget about the board of Education who are spending over 60 per cent of our tax dollar. In a recent write-up in the Toronto Star, staff writer Val Sears speaking about the Board of Education put it this way - 'They're the tag-along candidates. Hardly anyone knows their names. At political meetings they speak last if at all - when most people have gone home. On election day, they have small victory parties in somebody's living room. If they lose, they're never heard of again. They come cheap, work hard and spend millions of your money each year, half of everything raised by property taxes. This is why it is so important that you look over the candidates that are running for seats on the Board of Education and you choose wisely.'

We received word over the weekend that Austin Snider a former resident of Haliburton passed away at Tottenham, Ontario.

Tonight (Wednesday, November 1), a Referees Clinic for the Tri-County League will be held at the Arena Auditorium at Haliburton starting at 7:00 p.m. All those interested are asked to attend.

Last March a meeting was held to discuss the possibilities of organizing a Business Improvement Area for Haliburton Village, and at that meeting a committee was formed to investigate the possibilities further. The committee, with the co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce now has the results of a consumer-merchant survey to work from, and feel that the time has come to ask the business people involved for more input. The meeting will be held on Wednesday, November 22nd at 7:30 p.m. in the Library of the Haliburton Senior Elementary School. You are invited to come and participate in the meeting and voice your opinions on the following topics.

Hydro Poles - The existing problems - the alternatives for both wiring and Street Lighting. Truck Route - The possibilities of removing this traffic from main street. Walkway - Convenient access method to off-street parking and the park - location and acquisition of same.

Info Centre & Directory - Possibility of central directory for shops and an Information Booth.

Parking Meters - Should they be eliminated and how to control staff parking. The format of a business Improvement Area Proposal and the boundaries involved. The formation of a Merchant/Business Area Association.

During my holidays I had the privilege of speaking to the Rotary Club of Minden. It gave me the opportunity to voice my opinions on local issues that affect all of us and it also gave me the chance to meet some of my old friends from the Minden Club and to strike up new acquaintances. The Rotary Club of Minden are doing a great job of service work in Minden and surrounding area and I wish them the best of luck in the future.

Dale Robinson introduced two students from the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School at a recent meeting of the Rotary Club of Haliburton. Lee Potter spoke on her "Adventure in Civilization" at Midland while Scott Welch spoke on his "Adventure in Industrialization" at Brampton. They were two excellent young speakers who were thanked by Ken Rydman.

Editor's Notebook

by Gord Lavoie

I used to consider myself a little bit of a hockey player until this past weekend. I journeyed to Brockville to visit my family. A friend and former team-mate asked me if I wanted to rejoin my old team-mates for a game of shinny on Saturday. I eagerly agreed to play.

Since it has been only a few months since I was last playing, I felt confident my ability had not faded away.

The team plays every Saturday in a community north of Brockville called Athens. We were facing a squad from Gananoque, with whom we had split the best of two games last season.

It appeared a sufficient number of players had turned out for our team. I was designated to play defence and was prepared to do my best.

As the game began, the opposition pounced on the puck, set up its play and converged upon our end. As I skated backwards to head off the impending rush, I fell and much to my regret, the opponents buzzed in on our goalie and scored.

I vowed I would be more careful next time my turn came on the ice.

When I returned to the ice, my team gained possession of the puck and began an assault on our opponents. The puck was being held in their end when it came around the boards to me. I attempted to play it off the boards when it zipped by me onto the stick of a rushing opponent who raced into our end of the rink and scored on a breakaway.

Visions of being traded danced through my head as I returned to the bench.

Again, I vowed to play better and not allow any more opportunities for scores. I returned to the ice shortly and immediately faced a two-on-one rush, which much to my regret resulted in another goal.

After the game while removing my equipment in the dressing room, I was kidded about being traded to the 'Northern League' in Haliburton.

I will have to either improve my game or hang up the blades forever.

By the way, the final score in the game turned out to be 6 to 3 for our opponents.

It is probably a good thing I am now living in Haliburton or I would not likely regain a spot on my old squad.

Maybe I should consider old-timers hockey instead.

From the Chamber

by Bob Stinson

By Popular Demand - we're back

When the decision was made by the board of directors to discontinue this chamber column, it was done so with the thought in mind that we would listen intently for comments generated by this action and be prepared to reconsider the decision accordingly. The comments have been numerous and we thank you sincerely those who asked us to please continue the column.

The main reason for discontinuing the column was that it was felt it was not fulfilling its role as a communications link with the membership. This still may be so, but what did become obvious was the fact that many members of the public who may not necessarily be members of the chamber read this column regularly and relied on it for a source of information on what was happening in the community. With this in mind, our newly-elected board considered the future of the column at their first directors meeting. It was decided that the column should be continued, but more with an eye to communicating with the public at large than the chamber membership. Our plans to step up our newsletter communications with members will therefore still take place.

New Board Plans a Busy Year

Following a successful annual meeting, the new board of directors of the chamber met and elected John Hogg, president, and Jim McLean vice-president. They, along with past president Dennis Waymouth will meet this week to set up the committees and plan many of the coming year's activities.

The chamber for the first time in many years held an election at the annual meeting which is certainly a healthy sign. The disadvantage to this situation, of course, is that two individuals, who are offering to give generously of their time and effort, could not be elected. To Len Ellison of Haliburton Marine, and Don Wolfraim of Mae's Country Mart in Minden, we owe a sincere debt of gratitude for their offer to serve, and we do hope we can call on them for assistance in committee work throughout the year.

The only thing a director receives for his considerable effort expended with the chamber of commerce is the satisfaction of knowing he did something to help the community.

Welcome New Members

Mr. and Mrs. Al Mayo have just purchased a home in the community and we would like you to welcome them with us. Al Mayo is the manager of the new Toronto-Dominion Bank, which just opened in Minden.

Jim Crocker of Tamarack T.V. and Appliances in Gooderham dropped into our office last week and purchased a membership for his new firm. Although established for less than a year, Jim tells us that his business is far ahead of what he had projected at this particular time. We wish him continued success.

New Cross Country Ski Facility

Ray Woodward of Woodland Ranch has announced that their entire facility of 6,000 acres will be turned over to cross country skiing this season. With over 50 miles of groomed cross country trails complete with cookout shelters, a snack bar and a lounge, and a ski shop which will feature equipment rentals, service and repairs. This facility should provide a very worthwhile attraction for winter visitors to our area. Combined with the other worthwhile winter facilities we are now reaching a point where visitors can be encouraged to spend a week or more on holidays in our winter wonderland.

November Will Be Busy

All merchants and their staff should be now have a big circle around November 15 for the upcoming crime prevention seminar at PineStone Inn. Because of such a jam-packed agenda for this seminar, we must get underway at 6:30 p.m. in order to complete the program at a reasonable hour. For those intending to have supper at the PineStone prior to the meeting, we would suggest that you make reservations ahead of time for it looks as though it may be a busy evening.

Business men from both Minden and Haliburton will be meeting this month to discuss promotional possibilities for their respective towns, with the regular Minden Businessmen Association meeting scheduled for Tuesday, November 14, and a special meeting to consider a business improvement area program for the business people of Haliburton on November 22 at the Senior Elementary School.

The Senior Elementary teachers, with the sponsorship of the Kashagawigamog Tourist Association, are staging the first Haliburton Floor Hockey Tournament on the weekend of November 24. The tournament will host eight teams from Canada and the United States and will be a first of its kind in our area.

The weekend of November 25 marks the 100th Anniversary of the first steam locomotive to arrive in the village of Haliburton. The Guild of Fine Arts is planning a great number of activities for this weekend to both celebrate this anniversary and kick off their ambitious campaign to the restoration of the railroad station into a visual arts display centre. Watch for further details on all these events.

Report from Queens Park

by MPP John Eakins

The Metro-Provincial Task Force's Report on Liquid Industrial Waste Disposal, which was released about a month ago, confirms our fears that a crisis has been permitted to develop with respect to liquid industrial waste disposal.

One fact, which is clear, is that 20 per cent of the wastes, which were previously sent to the Beare Road site in Scarborough, are, at present, unaccounted for because that site is now closed down. A further 20 per cent is transported to the United States, but that border is expected to close to these wastes on December 31 of this year. No alternative disposal arrangements have apparently been made.

Nor has the government introduced legislation enabling inspectors to enter private premises and monitor wastes, in spite of the fact that metro council requested such legislation as long ago as February, 1977.

The report utilizes a table giving the present whereabouts of Ontario's hazardous liquid wastes - a table which is questionable, to say the least, being based upon estimates and approximations. How can it be otherwise when the ministry has not yet received replies to letters sent to some 240 industries requesting information on their waste disposal problems and practices? The picture is further clouded by the ministry's failure to implement an effective way-bill system in Ontario.

Former Environment Minister George Kerr stated that industry should be responsible for its own waste disposal, absorbing the cost as a business expense. In direct contradiction, the task force recommends that "the Ministry of the Environment, along, or in conjunction with private enterprise, should acquire and approve sites and processes".

Regrettably, the task force has failed to address many of the problems raised in the report itself. No legislation is proposed to close loopholes in the Ministry of the Environment's way-bill system. There are no recommendations as to how the province should acquire and license disposal sites. There are no incentives for established industries to re-design their processing facilities in order to recover, re-use, exchange, or sell their wastes. The report refers only to new industries. There is no provision for requiring immediate replies from those industries which has been sent letters from the ministry requesting information on the whereabouts of wastes which are generated.

The task force concludes: "it would appear that no increase in the number of outlets will occur in the near future". This conclusion, based on an enumeration of project proposals currently before the ministry, is a further indication of the very serious problems of toxic liquid industrial waste disposal in Ontario - problems which urgently require solution.

A number of people have already questioned the wisdom of taking action based solely on the recommendations of the Metro-Provincial Task Force on Liquid Industrial Waste Disposal, which have been formulated on the basis of incomplete information provided by the Ministry of the Environment. Such recommendations must, inevitably, fail to recognize the wide-ranging and serious waste disposal problems of the province.

The metro task force has obviously not really been able to come to grips with the very serious environmental hazards posed by inadequate measures for the disposal of liquid industrial waste.

Many of the concerns and questions raised in the report must be given urgent consideration by the standing committee on resource development.

Bill Smiley

If you have ever bought, or borrowed, a copy of Maclean's magazine, you have probably been subjected, in the past month or so, to the same treatment I have, a variation on the Chinese water torture. Every second day I have received a card, or a phony-looking certificate, or a sincere letter, telling me of the fabulous bargains in subscriptions I can receive if I sign up right now.

Heck, for only $19.95 ($52.50 at newsstand), I can receive 70 issues of Maclean's plus a 10 per cent guaranteed lifetime savings, plus a full-color 1978-79 calendar. It's a great piece of hucksterism. And with a good reason. If you don't get them subscribers, you don't get ads, and ads is what a magazine gets rich on, not readers.

And I can understand the slight note of desperation in the mail campaign. The first few issues of "Canada's Weekly Newsmagazine" were not exactly swollen with advertising. There were six to eight full-page ads, mostly liquor and cigarettes, a few half and quarter-pages, a couple or three self-promotional pages, all this out of 57 pages total. Not enough money there to pay for the coffee breaks of about 40-odd editors, a gaggle of researchers, correspondents, photographers and editorial assistants. It is to tremor with fear.

Not that it would bother me for more than one minute and a half if Maclean's went belly up. It's a fat, rich corporation, with many irons in the fire, most of them highly profitable.

Through a judicious combination of whining and poisonous nationalism, Maclean's managed to convince the Canadian government of the necessity to kick out of the country its only real competitor, Time magazine and Readers' Digest.

Nor have I any reason to wish the new weekly newsmagazine ill. I have an old and honorable association with the magazine and its sister, busom with advertising, Chatelaine. The latter has become, from tenuous, wispy beginnings, about as good a magazine as a women's magazine can get.

My association with this pair began at a tender age, about 10, when I received a contract to go out and hustle up subscribers to either or both of these mags. I was a lousy salesman then, and still am, and it was Depression years, but as I recall, I sold two subscriptions to Chatelaine and one to Maclean's, to friends of my mother. I received $1.50 in commissions, and that was the end of a potentially great career in publishing.

Of course, in those days, a kid didn't have a chance against the pros.

Maclean's, and other publishing chains, would send into a small town a highly-trained team of hustlers to sell subscriptions. They were personable and fast-talking, much like the encyclopedia salesmen of a couple of decades later.

They'd hit the town like a hurricane, about Tuesday, and depart Friday afternoon, laughing like open drains, with a lot of loot, leaving behind them a host of housewives wondering vaguely why they had signed up for eight years of Maclean's and sixteen years of Chatelaine, even though it hadn't cost them a cent, ha ha.

However, I am willing to let old business animosities lie.

If Maclean's leave me alone, I'll do the same for them.

Let's take an objective look at their newsmagazine, the non-pareil, according to them. It's not bad, really.

There is a strong tendency to be smartass, as in this opening sentence, "The CBC is the oldest whore on the block." Somebody trying to imitate Time magazine's style.

But, on the whole, the mag isn't bad. Considering the tribulations of putting out a weekly magazine in an age in which everything is instant dead two minutes after it's been seen on TV, there is a fairly good analysis of provincial and federal news, and adequate coverage of international news, and a few good features. One of them is interesting enough, visually and verbally, but bears the dreadful cliché "People" as its heading.

There's a lot of cutesy business of printing over yellow and purple and orange, which is juvenile and slightly annoying.

But there is some first-class writing. People like Barbara Amiel and Mordecai Richler and Allan Fotheringham seldom put a foot wrong. The last of those is an abrasive columnist from Vancouver who recently suggested that the Toronto Argonauts and the Federal liberals were utterly interchangeable, and that if the Argos backfield were running the country, nobody would notice the difference - a nice commentary on both.

Perhaps the magazine is happiest, so far, in its comments on the arts and entertainment. This is where Canadians shine; we are a nation of critics, whether we know anything about the subject or not.

It is rather weak on sports, but then sports are awfully dead, except for color stories, once the hurly-burly's over.

On the whole, let's give the thing a chance, for a month or two. But no way am I going to sign up for 70 issues. How do I get my money back if I die or they go broke in the next two weeks.

New chairman appointed to council

James Kloefer is the new Chairman of the Haliburton, Kawartha and Pine Ridge District Health Council.

On the recommendation of the members of the council and the Minister of Health, Dennis Timbrell, Lieutenant Governor, Pauline M. McGibbon approved the appointment of Kloefer by Order-in-Council, numbered OC-2818/78 dated September 27, 1978.

Kloefer takes over, as Chairman, from Mr. C.M. "Curly" Krug, who held the position for the past three years. Kloefer has been a member of the District Health Council since September 1975. For the past three years, he has been a member of the Executive Committee of the Council and previously held the position of Vice-Chairman and Treasurer.

Kloefer is a resident of Bethany in the County of Victoria. He owns and operates a general insurance agency. He has been very active in community affairs as a member of The Red Cross Society, The Knights of Columbus and The Bethany Athletic Association. Kloefer is married and has two children.

Championship game today

Redmen pursue title

It's do or die for the Redmen on Thursday.

The Haliburton Highlands Secondary School football team now moves into the final game for the Kawartha 'A' championships against Lakefield College, after defeating Brock Secondary School from Cannington by a shut-out of 9 to 0. The Redmen snatched the victory on their home turf last Tuesday.

Said coach Gary Brohman of the game, "We came across with a great display of defence, and managed to pick up our first shut-out of the year."

The Redmen had to have won this game to move into the finals, but, added Brohman, the team completely dominated the game.

In the first quarter, there was no scoring by either team, but the Redmen defence demonstrated to Brock that it would take a little more than a shove to break through.

The real action came in the second quarter when Redmen defensive halfback Steve Bishop intercepted a pass on the 40-yard line, which began a scoring drive for Haliburton.

Halfback Scott Arbuthnot stung first when he scored on a six-yard plunge. Quarterback Tim Davies backed up the touchdown with a two-point conversion.

The Redmen continued to capitalize on Brock's mistakes, and Bishop shone for the team throughout the match. He recovered two Brock fumbles and blocked a kick in the second.

No scoring came in the third quarter after the teams trotted back onto the field, but the Redmen defence pounced on every mistake made by Brock's quarterback. Defensive end Brian Shaw and middle guard Ed Roberts both recovered two of the opponent's fumbles.

Excellent scoring chances for the team came in the fourth quarter, but, says coach Brohman, "we just seemed to go back and forth."

Toward the latter part of the game, Davies kicked a 45-yard single pinner, and that ended the game with the score 9 to 0 in Haliburton's favour.

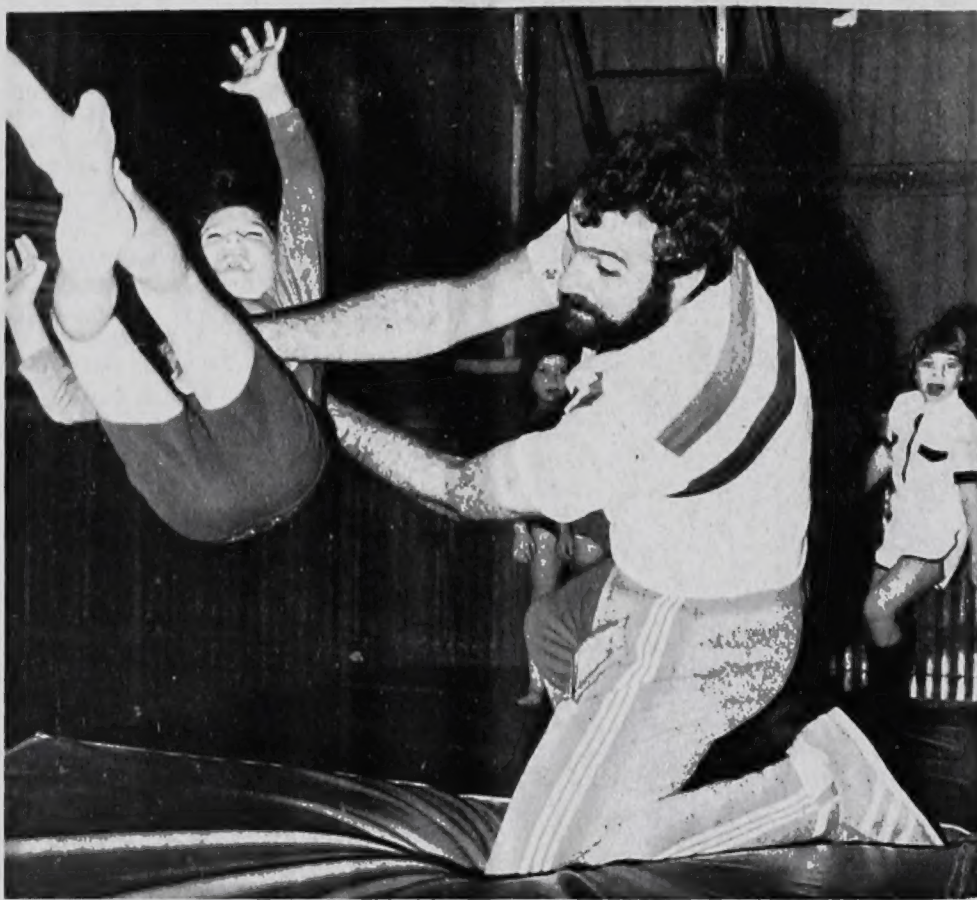

The bulk of what coach Brohman call the "defensive destruction" of Cannington came from linebacker Mike Iles, Eddie Anderson and Brian Shaw.

Offensively, said coach Brohman, the Redmen played a "real good game". They were, however, inconsistent at times and had difficulty scoring at opportune moments.

The final against Lakefield College will be played at the Haliburton fields today (Wednesday) at 2 p.m. Lakefield became the team to play Haliburton when they beat out Norwood High School 16 to 1 last week.

"We'll have to stop their running game," said coach Brohman about the match-up.

"If we can do that, then we can win this football game."

School teacher, John Fitzgerald gives a young gymnast support as she attempts a dive over the somewhat large barrier. The exercises for children were offered by Sir Sanford Fleming College Saturday at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School.

Afternoon bowling scores

Team standings are really close this week in the Maple Lake Mixed Bowling.

The Baby Bears have 87½ points with the Duds and the Terrors right on their tails with 87 points. They are closely followed by the Devils with 78 points, the Roadrunners with 77 points and the Rangatangs, 68½ points.

lah Cowen 206; Muriel Peters 215; Ruth Sawyers 237; Ev Stata 231; Ray Knapp 248; Norma Hodgson 209; Laura Fagan 218; Harry Henderson 235; Fran Woods 204; Marion Donaldson 201; Vi Cornish 203; Jack Henderson 202; Gord Bennett 256; and Mary Parozanin 210 and 245.

Team standings are Happy Gang 30, Slow Pokes 28, Left Overs 27, Hot Rods 23, Odd Balls 22 and All Strikes 17.

THURS. BOWLING SPORTS

In Thursday afternoon ladies bowling, high triples were bowled by Ann Baker with 658, Pearl Foster with 633, and Joan Hatoski with 608.

High singles were achieved by Eva Piper with 228, Lyn Franklin with 275, Lillian Gorgevatt with 225, Flo Henderson with 225, Jean Carr had 222 and Iris Taylor came up with 218.

Lil's Teddybears are tops at the team standings with 108. Iris' Super Sports are in second with 106, Kay's Tigers with 99, Eva's Terrors with 94, Joan's All Stars with 91 and Susan's Sizzlers with 69.

Says Huskies coach ...

'They look good'

"They look good." That's what coach Rick Wood had to say about his team, the Haliburton Huskies at their practice last Monday.

"We've got a better balanced team than we did last year, but," said coach Wood of the upcoming game against Bewdley this Friday night, "we're going to have to play it by ear."

The junior 'D' team, says coach Wood, has its roster complete, and four veteran players are returning to the Huskies this year.

Centre Tim Bain and left-winger Joe Roberts will be the two experienced players on forward, while Barry Shaw and Tim Moore will constitute the team's experience in defence.

The Huskies have lost both their goaltenders from last year, and coach Wood will be turning to two rookie goaltenders to watch the nets over the season.

Craig Woods, who played for the Haliburton midgets last year, has been signed and Paul Beatty, who played juvenile last year in Orillia, is expected also to be signed to the team. The team is also attempting to recruit a rookie from Kinnmount, who is still midget age, Shawn Silvers.

Though the goaltending looks somewhat inexperienced, coach Wood commented that "they're holding their own" in the practice scrimmages.

Chris Hodgson and Ed Roberts look to be hopeful rookies on the forward line. Mike Iles and Keven O'Hara also look to be promising, coach Wood said.

Forward Andy Salvatori, who is in his second year with the Huskies, is hoped to better his previous season as far as scoring goes. "We're expecting more goals out of him," said coach Woods.

Dwight Sisson and Randy Barris are two other forwards the Huskies will be expecting to score goals throughout the season. The team has also acquired two former Minden juveniles, defenceman Steve Davies and forward, Jerry Campbell.

Coach Wood says he is not making any predictions on the year for the Huskies, but he says that he expects "a lot of high scoring games."

As for the first game of the seasons against Bewdley on Friday night at the Dysart arena, "there's going to have to be a lot of shots and hits by everybody."

Game time at the arena will be 8:30 p.m. The Huskies will also be having another practise tonight at the arena at 9 p.m.

Along the Trails by Roy Bates

Last weekend, I had the pleasure of attending the Second Annual Convention of the Hill and Gully Riders Snowmobile Club of Port Sydney. "Second Annual", in this instance, does not mean that the club is two years old. It means, rather, that the Hill and Gully Riders have reached such a status that their annual general meeting is now a two-day affair complete with guest speakers, a banquet and dance, the wrap-up of a year's business and the election of a new board to tackle the next 12 months.

For me, it was a heart-warming experience. Although my own snowmobile club, the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association, has attained greater size - twice as many members and many more miles of trails - we look upon the Port Sydney club as our big brother. For the Hill and Gully Riders were around to show us the way!

Back in the days when the HCSEA was struggling against great odds to get on its feet, Port Sydney snowmobilers were already involving themselves in community endeavors, bringing winter business to that part of Muskoka and naming nearly half of the seats in the Ontario federation's board of directors.

The meeting gave me an opportunity to renew old acquaintances, as well as to meet for the first time some of the federation's early workers, all of which served to remind me just how much we in Haliburton owe to the Hill and Gully Riders.

A few of my readers will recall attending HCSEA meetings when our main pep talk were delivered by guest speakers from Port Sydney. Such names as Ross Clarke, Bill Clarke, and Lloyd Woods should be familiar to such readers. One occasion in particular springs vividly to my mind.

The HCSEA was going into what I shall call the 'Three Year Slump'. A period in the history of most volunteer organizations when it is realized that success can be a very elusive thing, when interest fades and along with it, the will to carry on.

The association had built up an impressive membership in the previous two years, six affiliated clubs, one hundred and four businesses for a total of 395 names on the membership roster, but now the group was in trouble and dangerously close to folding up. When we called a general meeting that spring, only 17 people showed up.

Our secretary that year was Bernice Davis, a member of the Horseshoe Lakers snowmobile club and a Minden school teacher. A fellow teacher in her school was one Roy Musselman, a member of the Port Sydney Club. It was on Roy's suggestion that we invited Bill Clarke to address our meeting.

Bill Clarke was, and still is, a tourist operator in Port Sydney. He owns The Village Inn, which he operates to this day and Pine Lodge, which he has recently sold. We could not have chosen a better speaker for that occasion. His first-hand knowledge of the impact of a snowmobile club on a tourist community was what we needed.

Bill came into our meeting of 17 people, shrugged off our apologies for the poor turnout, and then launched into a talk that swept away the gloom like some act of magic. I can't recall everything he said, but his words worked wonders. We learned how a club can gain the respect and admiration of an entire community to the point where business operators were not

holds banquet

Saturday night

The Haliburton County Ladies Softball League will be holding their banquet and dance this Saturday starting at 6 p.m. at the Haliburton Legion Hall.

A 'happy hour' will be held from 6 until 7 p.m. and the dinner will follow. At 8 p.m., the awards will be presented, and, at 9, a dance featuring the Porcupine Lumber Company will begin.

All teams that played during the season will be in attendance, and about 90 people have been invited for the dinner.

More than 50 attend

Snowdon candidate night held Thursday

More than 50 people attended an all-candidates meeting last Thursday at Gelert Community Hall to listen to Snowdon township candidates for council and board of education express their reasons for seeking office.

Incumbent reeve Bob Vick asked township voters to "think very seriously when you vote" in the municipal elections. He told the gathering he is content with the planning strategy which will go before county council next Thursday.

Challenger Don Smedmor, who has spent the past two years as deputy-reeve, feels he can do a better job as reeve than the incumbent.

"I feel I can give you a better administration than you have now," he said.

John Francis and Grace Simmons are battling it out for the deputy reeve's post. Both expressed concern over the roads in the township.

Francis said he is interested "most in the roads".

"Roads are more concern than anything else," stated Simmons.

Incumbent councillor Ron Burk told the gathering he thought the planning strategy was a "real good idea" and felt it would benefit the county and Snowdon township.

Newcomer William Riddell said he is interested in placing the operation of the township on a business-like level.

"I am interested in a business-like administration," he said.

Dick Stewart, another newcomer, feels the administration of the township is not being carried out properly and wants to see better roads in Snowdon.

Newcomer Dwayne Wruth said he is willing to learn about the administration of the township and wants to help the ratepayers.

Board of education incumbent Ralph Young is facing a challenge for the first time in seven years from newcomer George Simmons Jr.

Young said he has been a strong voice on the board for Snowdon and will stand on his past performance.

Simmons feels it is time for a change. He expressed concern over administrative costs and felt the costs could be reduced.

During the question and answer period, ratepayers expressed concern over fire protection, roads and hospital care.

simply paying a token membership fee in support but were actually putting up as much as $5,000 to give the club tools to work with. Those tools, a SkiDozer and trail drag, had made the trails around Port Sydney so popular that the tourist business in January and February was comparable to July and August.

He looked upon his $5,000 contribution not as a donation, but as a very profitable investment. And he must have been happy with the returns for Bill, although not a young man any more, is still very actively involved in the club's affairs.

Space does not permit a full account of the many ways the Hill and Gull Riders have shown leadership. Perhaps we can come back to them in a later column. Meanwhile, support your local club. The return on your investment can be quite surprising.

Haliburton man wins $66 in 50-50 Lions draw

Robert McLagan of Haliburton won $66 last Thursday in the monthly Haliburton and District Lions Club 50-50 draw which was held at the regular meeting of the club.

The winning ticket number was 721.

The next drawing of the club will be held on November 23.

A possible Olympic competitor? This young lady was one of many children who took advantage of the physical activities course offered by Sir Sandford Fleming College. The program, which was held Saturday at the high school, lured several children to participate in jumping, floor hockey and vaulting.

Constable crashes

A provincial constable from the Minden detachment suffered minor injury in a two-car accident last Friday at 5:38 p.m. on South Kosh-long Lake Road.

Constable Bill Clendinning, 40, of Minden, was driving east on the road when he collided with a westbound vehicle, driven by Allan R. Wallace, 47, of Cambridge, at the crest of a hill.

Damage to the Wallace car was estimated at $1,000, while the police cruiser received $800 damage.

The mishap was investigated by Corporal Ron Foran. A 19-year old Bowmanville resident, Wesley Cathcart, suffered minor injury in a single car crash last Friday at 11:30 p.m. on a private road in the Koshog Lake area. Cathcart was northbound when he swerved to avoid a deer, entered the east ditch and struck some trees, police reported.

He was charged with failure to report a motor vehicle accident.

The accident was investigated by provincial constable Gary Chapman.

conflict of interests," said Woods.

The subject of the late councillor Napier Simpson, who was killed last summer, was raised. One man asked deputy reeve Jim Harrison, who is running for the position of reeve, why Simpson was so valuable to the council when he had so little experience concerning council matters. Harrison is campaigning heavily on his experience as councillor and deputy reeve.

"Napier gave us his expertise and general knowledge more than anything else," said Harrison, "and provided us with technical information concerning important matters."

Elgin Stouffer, a candidate for the position of deputy reeve, stated that Simpson had "two years in office and I think you could consider him experienced."

Deputy reeve candidate Douglas Cruthers was questioned about his feelings toward expansion at the Stanhope Airport.

"The airport can probably be improved at nominal costs," he said, "but somebody has to prove to me, or I'm going to have to start seeing jets flying into the airport to agree with expanding."

Leroy Eager and Dorothy Kinsman who are acclaimed school board trustees for the township, were asked about student's complaints concerning transfers to another course and other student-teacher problems.

"The students should write letters to us," said Eager. "I hear a lot of verbal complaining, but I need concrete complaints on paper to present to the board before anything can be done."

Guild of Fine Arts News

News from Extendicare

by Dr. W. O. Anderson

Monday afternoon two movies were shown. The first showed water skiing in Florida during our winter months. It was a British film. The second film showed three farms in different parts of Canada. It was an effort on the part of the National Film Board to put the Canadian farmer on a pedestal where he rightfully belongs.

Early this Monday morning, we have Mrs. Pat Burk back with us and, of course, she claims she had a good rest and a very nice holiday.

Tuesday afternoon was bingo again with the same compliment of helpers as a week ago. It is nice these people volunteer as they do.

Again this year, Mrs. Donna Dillon has a newly established trainee in her business office as Extendicare secretary, Mrs. Laurie Bonfield, who has taken a business course in Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, is now a business office trainee under the auspices of the Ontario Career Action Program. Mrs. Dillon reports that Laurie has a very promising business career ahead.

Also Tuesday a cooking class was held. Mrs. Hazel Parish, Mrs. Florence Stagg, Mrs. Flossie Burk, Mrs. Flora Walling and teacher Mrs. Pat Burk, in preparation for our attendance at the coming Thursday Haliburton Senior Citizens' Pot Luck dinner at the Dysart Community Arena, made a huge pan of delicious beef stew, and a batch of butterscotch cookies.

There was a splendid turnout at the arena with our contribution escorted by helpers Mrs. Eileen Morrison, Mrs. Dorothy Davidson and Mrs. Jean McKnight. While waiting to be seated, we had a look at the quilting being done by our lady hosts. A partially completed quilt which will be raffled, was in its frame on the stage of the auditorium and two ladies were working on it. When the quilt is completed, it will be something any housewife will be glad to own. We were called to the buffet tables, where the food was all laid out, to help ourselves to what we wanted. Grace was said by Ken Stewart at the request of the club president, Mr. Emil Neimann. It was a delightful and delicious meal, which the 116 persons ate and it went to show that Haliburton has one of the finest senior citizens clubs in Ontario.

Captain Doug Barry of the Haliburton Salvation Army was our spiritual leader for the Friday morning devotional period, along with Mrs. Amelia Sibley and Mr. Charles Plewman. The theme was "because we cannot see God we must accept Him on faith". The service was concluded with a chorus of "I want more of Jesus". There was a further get-together after service with tea and coffee and home-made cookies.

We had a Hallowe'en party Friday evening among ourselves, in which most of us wore bizarre costumes. We paired by numbers written on a ticket. Pre-arranged functions, such as Ezra Lott reciting the cremation of Sam McGee, and Charles Plewman giving a brief run-down on the members' current activities were held. This was interspersed by group singing, a solo by Mrs. Maude Weston and the delightful voice of Mrs. Gerane Bonyun. Refreshments of tea or juices and rice crisp in squares were served.

Volumes can be written regarding the post office fiasco.

Mrs. Vera Fuller has left us to make do on her own outside. Our best wishes go with her.

Mrs. Noreen Stevens of Minden is now one of our "Happy Gang". She was admitted here on Saturday. It was not very long until she was settled in as one of us.

Eastern daylight saving time came up to us quite abruptly this year. Some of us were sort of caught unaware.

Nelson and Blanche Lewis celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary last Sunday at their home in Wilberforce. Relatives and friends from Belleville, Newcastle, Bowmanville, Peterborough, Lindsay, Bancroft and Oshawa attended.

Minden Horticultural newsletter

This is the first newsletter of the Minden & District Horticultural Society, so we are "green" at this business. Our year has been hard work, but a lot of fun. With much co-operation and great team effort, we have done the following:

1. Hung flower baskets at Minden main street.
2. Planted flower garden in downtown Minden.
3. Planted flower garden at West Guilford Community Centre.
4. Planted flower garden at Stanhope Municipal Offices.
5. Placed flower arrangements for Haliburton Guild of Fine Arts Summer Exhibition.

Discussion to be held at PineStone

A meeting to discuss the possible establishment of a day care centre for Haliburton village will be held November 16 at 8 p.m. in the main conference room at the PineStone Inn.

deals with 'O Canada' as our National Anthem and it seems this bill is just being passed over. If each member would write to Mr. Marc LaLonde, Secretary of State at Ottawa, this might bring this bill to the attention of the Federal Parliament. A hearty vote of appreciation was given her by all.

The meeting adjourned and all enjoyed the delicious lunch served by the committee. The next meeting will be November 15 at 2 p.m. at St. Paul's Parish Hall and any newcomers are welcome to come and join our group.

6. Held a plant sale and information booth at Rotary Carnival in July.

7. Held Flower Display at County Fair in August.

8. Replanting of planter at Stanhope Library.

9. Planting of bulbs for spring.

Did You Know That?

1. Our float "Mary Mary Quite Contrary" won 1st prize at July Rotary Carnival.
2. Our float "Song of the Lazy Farmer" won 1st prize at the County Fair.

Congratulations and thank you to members who have made all these things possible.

Invitation to Members and Friends

Our Pot Luck supper and annual meeting will be held November 7 at 6:30 p.m. at Minden United Church. Please bring your own plate, cup and cutlery and your favourite pot luck dishes.

People are divided into 3 groups: 1. Those who make things happen. 2. Those who watch things happen. 3. Those who wonder what happened. Which one are you?

It has been very rewarding to see the coverage the guild's project, the Canadian National Railway station, has received over this last week in our County Echo, as well as from other media.

To take this endeavour one step further the guild has undertaken the education of the high school students in the field of fine arts and crafts. A group, headed by Shirley Rydman with the help of guild members, Mary Wallace, Donna Monk and high school teachers, Marilyn Kuno, Rosie Kenny and vice-principal Dale Robinson, have worked to put together an arts and crafts program, that will, we hope, lead them into the appreciation of the fine arts and crafts.

With special help from Ken Rydman, head of the guidance department at the high school, a survey was undertaken to see what, if any, interest existed in such a program. Along with the survey, a display of leather work, pottery, candle making, weaving, macramé, batik, string art and pine cone wreaths were set up in the school, outside the cafeteria. Shirley and Donna were on hand to answer all questions. A few students expressed interest in photography and were informed that at the bottom of the survey sheet, a section was available in which they could write their preference. If enough students showed interest, a teacher would be made available.

The survey sheet also stressed the fact that the courses being offered to the students at a minimal cost of $5 which covered the cost of materials used, "was an opportunity and a privilege that should not be hastily dismissed". "A lot of very talented people", it continued, "are volunteering their time and talent that you the students may benefit from their years of costly training." It goes on to say, that at the conclusion of the courses each student would have the opportunity of entering their efforts for judging. A scholarship to attend the School of Fine Arts would be awarded to the students showing the most potential and talent in each area.

Most people are unaware of a talent that they may have simply because of the lack of opportunity - it's here, it's yours - use it.

Teachers...The best Ontario had to offer

One of the secrets of the Haliburton School of Fine Arts eventual success may well lie in prepatory planning which was preceded by careful and exhaustive examinations and surveys of similar institutions. Members personally looked into facilities, management and constitutions of the Uxbridge Upper Canada Workshop, Elliott Lake Lakehead School of Fine Arts, Doon School of Fine Arts and the Hockley School of Fine Arts. Their conclusions...

ion, that the "pleasant pastime" image must be avoided at all costs. Serious instruction must be the prime watchword and goal of the school of fine arts.

At this time, Joachim Gauthier, was, as a director of the school of fine arts and a long-time summer resident who had painted and sketched throughout Haliburton, an important addition to the fall courses faculty. Gauthier was a veteran of successful one-man and group art exhibitions and was also a personal friend of A.J. Casson's. Gauthier had also studied with Franklin Carmichael and the noted sculptor, Alonzo Lewis. His reputation in the art world did much to enhance the chance of success for those first art courses.

Oscar Schlienger, educated in Europe and an art teacher of 20 years experience, taught a full week's course and Gerald Zeldin a weekend.

Women's monthly meeting

by Irene Moore

On October 25, 24 members and a guest were present for the monthly meeting of Minden Women's Institute at the Orange Hall. The president, Mrs. L. Cox opened the meeting with a reading and welcomed our guest and one of our life members, Mrs. J. Graham.

After the usual reports, Mrs. A. Kernohan told us our finances were in good shape and all our bills are to be paid. Mrs. Cox also thanked all the members who had helped in the T.D. Branch. Mrs. W. Moore reported sending 24 cards since the last meeting; don't forget to let her know about anyone celebrating an anniversary or who is in hospital. Collections for cards, pennies for friendship and the special one were taken, and some ladies put money in the birthday box. The resolutions for area convention were voted upon for our delegate. Ladies who are helping at the tea, November 9 at Hyland Crest Home are Mrs. R. Hughes, Mrs. S. Ewing, Mrs. L. Sedgwick, Mrs. Tu. Hurrta, Mrs. J. Hulbig and Mrs. L. Cox. Letters regarding achievement days at the Government Building in Lindsay in November were read. Mrs. Allen Giles, district secretary-treasurer and former provincial board member, then spoke to us about resolutions. She told us that these are needed for changes, should be practical, state this branch's opinion and benefit the majority. All research we do should go with our resolution to the next level, our district and all this by April 1 each year.

One resolution she spoke about was Bill C-9 which

Expected to be completed by November 16

Bell telephone books coming soon

The new telephone directory for Lindsay-Peterborough and surrounding area has a cover featuring lush photographs of the four seasons of the year in Ontario.

Ken Witherden, local Bell Canada manager, said delivery will start today and is expected to be completed by November 16.

Some 94,000 copies will be delivered, about 2,000 more than last year. By continuing its policy of one directory a household, Bell is conserving more than 15,000 copies.

Witherden said Bell is reverting to a summer directory next year, because delivery is much easier, particularly in the cottage areas.

There will be a May, 1979 closing for names in the directory and delivery will start about July 1, he said.

The new directory being delivered this month has additional information about Bell Canada and the steps that should be taken by a customer if he is not satisfied with the treatment he has been given by the company, Witherden said.

There are two pages headed: "We're here to help you at Bell Canada. Here's how to reach us."

Business office telephone numbers and hours of business are listed for each exchange. Locations where subscribers can pay their bill personally are listed as well as the mailing address for bill payments. Customer complaint procedures are then spelled out. Other company numbers are listed, such as repair and directory assistance.

There are also two pages near the end of the introductory pages headed "Getting the most out of your phone."

They deal with such subjects as planning your service carefully; avoiding directory assistance charges; stretching your long distance dollar; coin telephone pointers; special needs; your child and the phone; and phone problems.

A new feature of the 1978-79 directory is a map of Canada and the United States showing the area codes, which are needed when calling long distance, and the time zones.

The pictures on the front and back covers show tulips in the spring, a family of birds on a lake at sunset in summer, leaves turning in the autumn and a snow-covered park scene in winter.

Anyone who does not have a new directory by November 20 should call his local Bell Canada business office.

Cornelius (Corky) Landman, also educated abroad, taught a full course in photography lasting a week, as well as two weekend courses.

Both art and photography instruction was given outdoors when the Indian summer weather co-operated in a variety of picturesque locations, otherwise their classes were held indoors at Royal View Lodge. Evening sessions of films, discussions, lectures and entertainment were also held including one by Napier Simpson Jr. on early Canadian architecture and others on photography, antiques and Indian crafts.

Registration was encouraged. Since the Carnegies donated their facilities and everything was done by volunteer labour with few expenses beyond instructors, and administrative costs, the founding committee's original attitude tended to be "who needs money?" However, as their project expanded and its needs with it, they found that they did.

Next week - Birth of the guild.

Pottery Group

On visiting the varied pottery workshops at the school, I was very pleased to see the shelves full of extremely talented work. It seems our new members and old are filling the expectations of their teachers and turning out really fine work. It is not surprising, however, as we have some very talented people in Haliburton County, they only needed the opportunity to develop.

Rug Hookers Group

In last week's column, I stated that the rug hookers group had been unable to secure a teacher for the new members - that problem has now been remedied. Mrs. Daisy Bond has undertaken the responsibility of teaching, and will also supply materials to the beginners at a cost of $3 a lesson. The first lesson will begin October 30, 10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the auditorium at Hyland Crest in Minden.

Weavers Group

At Monday's meeting, the weavers group set into motion their main project for 1978-79. The project is to design and weave table runners, to be used exclusively at the summer, Christmas and winter carnival sales; they will do much to enhance the tables on which the varied displays will be placed.

Each runner, measuring approximately 24" by 72" will incorporate the guild's name, "The Highlands of Haliburton Guild of Fine Arts Weaving Group" in its threading, which will mean warping 14 yards of materials. With each member volunteering time and materials, we hope to have these beautiful table runners completed in time for the summer exhibition and sale next July.

Judy Chapman and July Gray have returned happy and exhausted from the Ontario Handweavers and Spinners meeting in Sudbury. Judy reported on weekend activities and complimented the organization on their arrangements for all its visiting members. An entire motel was turned over to the organization for the weekend, enabling them to come and go as they pleased, visiting all the displays and lectures. She also commented on the arrangements of rotating the seating at meals, allowing all members to meet and visit with each other.

Eakins says tenders called

John Eakins, MLA for Victoria-Haliburton, said today that tenders are now being called for the construction of an Ontario Provincial Police detachment building in Coboconk, for the Ministry of the Solicitor General.

Designed by Ministry of Government Services staff and to be located on Highway 46 near the junction of Highway 35, Coboconk, the new structure will replace leased accommodation now in use. In addition it will provide modern and expanded facilities for eighteen uniformed staff and civilians who serve the northern sector of the County of Victoria and Galway Township, which have an area of 705 square miles.

The single-storey heated and air-conditioned detachment building will have a gross floor area of approximately 4,400 square feet. It will be divided into a visiting area, offices, radio room, interview room, cells, lunch room, storage space and double car garage. Specifications also call for concrete block construction with brick facing, and site services that include a paved access road and parking.

Completion of the project is expected by November of 1979.

Tools, camera stolen

Tools, valued at $440, and a Yashica camera were stolen last weekend from the rear seat of a vehicle owned by Gilbert P. Dressel of Port Colborne.

Provincial police from the Minden detachment report Dressel's vehicle was parked unlocked at the rear of a cabin at the Terrace Inn at Wilberforce.

The theft was investigated by provincial constable Mike Smith.

Norland Notebook

by Barbara Maunder

All of the names of the candidates have been filed for our township election on Monday, November 13. Nominations are closed and the following men will be seeking seats on the Laxton, Digby and Longford townships' council for the next two years. Incumbent reeve, John Ridgway will compete against Robert Commack for the position of reeve while former councillors Eric Voutier and Fred Kay will vie for the deputy-reeveship. Incumbent, Dave Graham and newcomers Leonard Greer, Michael Riordan and Barry Scott will all try for one of the three council seats. Regular polling day is Monday, November 13 from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. with Poll 1 at Norland Community Hall and Poll 2 at Head Lake Township Hall. If you cannot vote on this day, be sure and cast your vote on the advance poll day, Saturday, November 4 from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the Norland Community Hall.

The Norland Public Home and School Association were pleased to see so many at their meeting on Tuesday, October 24. The new executive for 1978-79 is president, Stewart Morton, vice-president, Mary Graham, secretary, Grace Graham, treasurer, Nancy Greer, social conveners, Shirley Morton, Betty Adams, and Elaine Bryant. We wish you every success in the upcoming year. Lucky winner of the door prize was Mrs. Florence Allen of R.R. 1, Norland, who is now the proud possessor of a lovely Blue Mountain vase. The Allens purchased the home formerly owned by Norm and Mary Graham and it is nice to see Mrs. Allen at the Home and School meeting.

Thursday, October 26 turned out to be an especially interesting day for me. All of the correspondents of The Haliburton Echo were invited to Haliburton on Thursday morning to tour the office and plant and to see and hear how the paper is set up for printing. We met and talked with the staff of the paper - Dave Robb, assistant publisher, Gord Lavoie, the news editor, Debbie Wilson who is the typesetter, Robyn Foxall in charge of accounting, Susan Brohm, supervisor of circulation and office and Donna Brohm who has the knack of setting up the eye-catching ads for the paper. We learned that typesetting is the procedure used to print The Echo and watched Debbie type the news into columns using the special typesetting machine. These columns were then photographed, proof read, corrected, if necessary, waxed and placed onto finished regular size pages of the paper along with ads and pictures. The news editor, Gord Lavoie has the expertise to fit and juggle each of The Echo pages until everything fits together. When all of this is satisfactorily finished, the completed individual pages are taken to Bracebridge where they are printed, assembled and returned to Haliburton and addressed and sent out for all to read. Like most businesses, some days are busier than others and Monday and Tuesday are the days that all of The Echo staff are trying to meet that deadline to have the paper ready for printing. Following our informative tour, we were treated to a delicious lunch at the Pine-Stone Inn. My thanks to all for an enjoyable time.

That should have been sufficient to complete a lovely day but in the evening, I once again enjoyed a meal at a restaurant and then attended the first showing for this year of the Lindsay Rotary Club's travelogue series at the Academy Theatre, Lindsay. We viewed most enjoyable and fascinating pictures of Ethiopia that were well described and narrated by Mr. Joe Adair. The next travelogue series is on Thursday, November 30, and will be pictures of Israel - a country of contrast and shown by Steve Gonsler. Tickets for the six series are $12 and can be used by one or more persons but only up to six admissions for each $12 ticket. Lindsay Rotarians sell these tickets or they can be purchased at the theatre.

Congratulations to David Lee who was the winner of the Firemen's Hockey Pool on Saturday, October 21.

Norland Bowling team standings are as of Wednesday, October 25: team of Lyle Jewell has 33 points, Nelly Chynoweth 30 points, Kim Watson 27 points, Trent Watson 24 points, Don Boyce 22 points, Barb Maunder 21 points, Lois McLean 20 points and Betty Davey 19 points. Ladies high single and triple winners is Nelly Chynoweth 235, 632 and high average is Rotha Bryant with 186. Men's high single is Mike McAllister with 248, high triple is Jesse Buxcey with 630 and high average is Harry Smith with 199.

The newly formed Norland Leathercraft Society held its first meeting on Thursday evening in the Public Library. The election of officers was held with the following being elected: president, Hilda Chynoweth, vice-president, Peggy Weaver of Cobocok, Grace Graham, secretary and treasurer, Dorothy Brown. This group is affiliated with The Canadian Society of Creative Leathercraft (CSCL) and as a member of this society will now be eligible to show their leatherwork in competitive classes. If you are interested in becoming a member, to learn or improve leathercraft, please contact Hilda Chynoweth at 454-3206 for further details.

More than 50 people attended an all-candidates meeting last Thursday at Gelert Community Hall to listen to Snowdon Township candidates for council and board of education express their reasons for seeking office.

Chatting with Irene

by Irene Moore

Well my friends I guess winter is close at hand, my Blue Jays are back. I was starting to wonder if they were every coming, but the advance Jay came last week about the middle of the week, now there are six of them. My, they are greedy birds, if there is no sunflower seed out, they tell me about it in no uncertain bird talk. Have had no other birds around yet, but expect to see them soon now that the Jays are here.

There was a very interesting meeting at the council building last Thursday evening when Mrs. Henry of the Royal Botanical Gardens, Hamilton, spoke to over 90 people about Christmas arrangements and decorations. Mrs. Doreen Henry is a lecturer of the Outreach Department of the Gardens and gave us many ideas for Christmas decorations that can be made with materials close at hand. I never knew that the potato could make such a lovely door or table design. Of course, it had the help of the fir trees and some wire but when finished was really lovely. There were many other inexpensive designs as well as more expensive uses of flowers. I noticed many folk taking notes on each design that pleased them so there may be many new designs on the doors, or tables this year.

Ask anyone who was there, for I'm sure they will pass on what they learned that evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud are visiting relatives in Kapuskasing this week. Card party winners at the Mini Card Party last week were: euchre, Lillian Davidson and Ada Turrell; lone hand - Alice Sedgwick; cribbage - Cora Hewitt, Diane Stevens; bridge - Anne Rock-ory.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dudman of Scarborough spent the weekend with Mrs. Grant Hewitt.

Have you watched T.V. lately? Did you hear that if you write Victoria & Grey Trust Co. Lindsay, you can get an almanac for 1979. Look in your phone book and you can find their proper address. Those Farmers Almanacs seem to predict the weather quite accurately.

Sunday guests with the Milt Sears were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Sears of West Hill and Miss Sandra Sears of Toronto.

On October 24, the Tuesday afternoon bowling league points were as follows: Eleanor Young - 112; Isobel Saunders - 112; Peggy Brown - 103; Flo Parnell - 98; Lily Burridge - 76; Marie Reynolds - 68. High triple flat: Roland Sedgwick - 614; Virna Wagg - 726; top high singles flat: Roy Parnell - 268; Mary Wright - 295; top average flat: Cy Preston - 186; Virna Wagg - 209. This is after just eight weeks of bowling.

Birthdays at Hyland Crest Home for November have no men listed. There are also no men's birthdays in December. Birthdays are Edith Allcorn, November 8; Gladys Dennis, November 10; Olive Tyler, November 14; Mary Fleming, November 18 and Pearl Elstone, November 21. That is it for this month, so keep those cards rolling for a card is as good as a gift.

Did you think that the Single Parent's Group had gone underground? They have not; their next meeting is called for November 9. They meet every second Thursday. For more information as to time and place, please call 457-1537.

Don't forget that the Figure Skating Club basket of groceries will be drawn for on November 10, so be sure and get some tickets as the basket is getting fuller each time I look at it. It is in the window at Mae's. She also has some tickets if you can't find them anywhere else.

On Tuesday, November 7, the Minden and District Horticultural Society are holding their regular meeting in the form of a Pot Luck supper at the Minden United Church. Time: 6:30 p.m. Be sure and bring your own cutlery, plate and cup as well as your favourite pot luck dish. Everyone is invited so bring a friend and food for them. As the regular annual meeting follows the supper, no one

You learn something every day, and Thursday was no exception. On that day, correspondents for this paper were privileged to have a tour of The Echo office and learn first hand, just how a newspaper is all put together. Gord Lavoie and Dave Robb, as well as the rest of the staff, were very patient in showing us each detail and in answering our questions regarding each phase of newspaper assembly. We were indeed thrilled by the whole experience and came away much enlightened. If a mistake does occur in printing, believe me, it was not through carelessness because the staff try very hard to avoid errors. Following our tour of the paper, we were all treated to lunch at the PineStone Inn which was another pleasurable experience. I was impressed with the PineStone and surprised to see so many having lunch, considering the tourist season is over and it was not the weekend. Our hearty thanks to all the staff. It was an enjoyable day.

You do not have to look into the heavens to see flying objects. Just last week, a "flying object" managed to break a large hole in a window at the local L.C.B.O. I'm sure this "object" must have broken the glass intentionally.

I hope you have gotten used to the time change this weekend and back on schedule by the time you read this column.

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Lake of Toronto were visitors Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Callan.

Mr. Wally Betts is a patient in Ross Memorial Hospital. Get well soon, Wally. I know you read The Echo.

I have learned that Eddie Dodds has passed away at his Victoria, British Columbia home. Ed and Iris were neighbours some years back, when they lived up on Base Line Road near Mrs. Florence Wards. I believe in the house now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lewis. Our sympathy to Iris and their daughter.

Though we do not have snow, Christmas is drawing nearer, and the local Legion are again planning a Santa Clause parade. The more entries there are, the greater the success of the parade. Perhaps some of you business folks to the north of us, would consider putting a float in the parade, to make your business known. You may sell the best car, snow-blower, or be the best carpenter, decorator or tin-smith, but there may be interested clients in this area who would bring you increased business, so come join our Legion branch and be a participant in the parade. Contact our local Legion for further information.

Hallowe'en will be history by the time you read this, and I hope there has been no vandalism in your area. Really, it's a fun time for children and I trust it remains as such.

Open House was held at Coboconk Public School on October 5, 1978 from 7 until 9 p.m.

The following are members of the staff of Coboconk Public School: Mr. J.H. Hopkins, Principal and Grade 7 & 8 teacher, Mr. W. Davidson, Grade 5 & 6 teacher, Mrs. W. Watson, Grade 3 & 4 teacher, Mrs. L. Luff, Grade 1 & 2 teacher, Mrs. B. Graham, Kindergarten teacher, Mrs. M. Wootton, Relief teacher for Grade 7 & 8, Mrs. R. Powell, secretary, Mr. H. Farrow, caretaker, Mrs. C. Fielder, Board of Education member, Mr. C. Ainsworth, French teacher, Miss H. Reid, Public Health Nurse and Miss J. McFarlane, Speech Therapist.

Following introduction of staff reports were given by health nurse, Miss Helen Reid outlining her duties within the school and community, librarian, Mrs. L. Easton reporting on use and purpose of library, secretary, Mrs. R. Powell told of her duties of secretary and principal, Mr. J. Hopkins, spoke on Year-End Awards System and the purpose and need of various programs.

This was followed by open discussion concerning the above items and open question period for parents relating to any school matters.

The program was concluded by having each teacher in their respective classrooms to discuss routines, homework and other related topics which were of interest to all. Special thanks to students and Mrs. Wootton for taking time to provide coffee and cookies.

Thomas Bain wins award from HHSS

The name of Thomas Bain, a Year 5 winner, was inadvertently left out of a list of students who won honours and awards at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School October 21.

He won the Mrs. Jean Herlihey Award and a prize of $100.

The Echo regrets the error.

"One of the hardest things to learn in life is which bridges to cross and which to burn."

Mrs. Helen Avery had her sister, Mrs. Vera Hovey of Thunder Bay, visiting her for a week. It was Mrs. Hovey's first visit to this part of Ontario and she thoroughly enjoyed the different scenery and various points of interest.

The guides, brownies and rangers will be visiting the Pines in the near future and we hope to have a story of their activities at a later date.

Mrs. Ellen Avery, Miss Kate MacKay, Mrs. Marion MacKay and Miss Elfrida Grist motored to Oshawa recently to visit Ellen and Kate's sister, Mrs. Euphemia Dolmage who is a patient in a nursing home in Oshawa. They report that Phem was in good spirits and wished to be remembered to all her friends in Dorset.

I find that Mrs. Trix Edwards has been once again taken to Huntsville Hospital and has been admitted as a patient. We wish her a rapid recovery from her problems.

A group of the Dorset Seniors enjoyed a pleasant day at the Frost Centre of Natural Resources on Friday of last week. Mr. Hamilton, the director, gave an interesting discourse on the history of the centre since its inception as the Forest Ranger School. He also explained the activities that are carried on at the present time.

The centre is utilized extensively by the various boards of education throughout the province. They bring students from the Grades six to nine for several days at a time and they are given instruction on the methods used for conservation of our lakes and forests. This was explained very capably by biologist Greg Gillespie, who showed slides and talked on the subject of re-stocking and re-claiming lakes, improving spawning beds, and the procedures used in various forms of protection and conservation. A delicious lunch was served in the cafeteria. The tour was guided by Robin

by Suzanne Carrell

Wildlife management means to maintain population of animals with the best interest of the wildlife species themselves, their environment and the public.

The people of Haliburton County should be more aware of the resource management in this area. Our resources are an important part of our way of life because many of the people are dependent on the tourist trade, or related to it in some way. And that's what resource management is all about. Our forests, wildlife, and fish attract the tourists. We should all understand the things being done to look after these resources.

When we went to the Leslie Frost Centre, we discovered that there are many details involved in this management, and that we influence the things around us in both helping and disturbing the balance of nature.

The first thing the Ministry of Natural Resources does is learn about the subject (fish, wildlife, forest) and what affect man has on them. This just means they study the surroundings, what other species live in the area, if they have any predators, and if they have any kind of migration routes. They also keep track of increases and decreases in the population. Man is one of the greatest influences on the resources because he uses them for so many things; for recreation, commercial uses, and scientific or biological research. Then the Ministry of Natural Resources studies the information gathered and they decide what needs to be done to solve the imbalance. There are many methods in which to deal with each problem.

One of the problems we have dealing with forests, is that much of the forests in this area are at the climax stage and there hasn't been any new growth. Because of this, even a forest fire could be helpful to a forest. But it can run the other way too, a disturbance such as land clearing or clear cutting might destroy the forest. The type of forest depends on how much light is available, what kind of soil it has, and how much water it would receive.

A problem affecting wildlife would be a shortage of food, or too much competition. This problem could be solved in a number of ways; a land clearing could be made to create an edge effect.

wants to do dishes, but wish to see the film on Haliburton which will be shown as part of the meeting. Hope to see you all there.

One thing that horrifies me is the callous way that people throw cats and kittens away at the dump. The man in charge found a cardboard box tied, which held three half grown kittens one day when he heard them meowing. Now he is trying to find homes for them. For goodness sake if you have a cat and do not want kittens, get the cat spayed. There is no excuse now with veterinarians available in the county. If the cat does have kittens, get rid of them by drowning, or behind the exhaust of your car before their eyes are open. I have done it and it is much better than to throw them on the dump to starve to death; for do not forget the dumps are not patrolled in the winter.

Do not forget the minor hockey dance this Saturday at 9 p.m. Dig out a costume and go have some fun.

The Library - Museum Group meet at the council chambers next Monday evening. Do try to attend.

Hockey games start this Saturday afternoon, November 4. Omamee will be at Minden.

Did you attend the meet the candidate night at the Community Centre last Wednesday evening. If you did not, you missed a good meeting. To my mind, it should have been called "Roast the Candidates Night", but everyone kept their cool and a good many questions were answered. All the candidates had their own platform and as I jotted down notes I kept thinking "I do wish the election was over, for who will do the best job". I guess the only way is to go over the notes each day and when it is time to vote, keep my fingers crossed that my vote has helped put the best in office. This vote is our chance to show who we want, so be sure and vote.

My column is too big this week, so no recipe will be given but before I sign off, I would like to tell you about the lovely day all the writers for the district had last week. Last Thursday, we were all invited to The Echo office in the morning. When all were present, Dave Robb, Gord Lavoie and Susan Brohm took us around the building stopping to explain all the insides of the work of getting a paper out each week. That was the day all of us were VIP's. My head was spinning when we had finished, but it was very educational as far as we were concerned. I do not think I would ever get the hang of it, so will stick with this column. I knew that there was a lot of work to putting the paper together, but never before realized how much. My hat is off to all the staff and thank you very much for the delightful day. Oh yes, I forgot to tell you we were treated to a delightful luncheon before they let us come home and I did not eat again that day! Adios and take care now.

50th Royal Fair

A number of people in Victoria and Haliburton Counties have expressed an interest in attending the 50th Royal Agricultural Winter Fair at Exhibition Park in Toronto, which is being held from November 9 to November 18.

To help you decide which day to attend, here is an outline of the highlights of each day's events:

Thursday, November 9 is an added day for this year and has been designated Youth Day. All events for rural youth such as the Queen's Guineas Steer Show, Inter-County Livestock Evaluation Competition, Horse Judging Competition and Junior Barrow Show will be held. Draught horse classes and horse showmanship will also be featured.

Friday, November 10 is Senior Citizens Day, with steers, lambs and barrows being shown, plus Arabian and Percheron horses.

Saturday, November 11 has the conclusion of the steer show, Charolais show and sale, some swine judging, and Belgian horse classes.

Sunday, November 12 is Family Day, with Simmental cattle being shown, the Jersey Futurity Show, Yorkshire and Clydsdale Judging, and the Simmental and Shorthorn Sales.

Monday, November 13 has beef cattle, sheep, swine and Hackney Pony judging plus sales of Angus, Jersey, Guernsey and Ayrshire cattle.

Tuesday, November 14 features dairy cattle and sheep judging with the concluding swine classes. The Canadian Hunter classes, swine sale and sheep shearing competition are also featured.

Wednesday, November 15 features Thoroughbred horses, Holstein and Guernsey cattle and the concluding sheep classes, plus the sale of Holsteins.

Thursday, November 16 has saddle horses, Shetland ponies and the dairy goat show and sale as the main features.

Friday, November 17 has Palomino classes and a Country and Western Jam-boree, plus Sheep Dog demonstrations.

Saturday, November 18 has the steer auction sale and wool auction.

Horse Shows will be held every evening, except Sunday and on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday afternoons. These Horse Shows require reserved seat tickets and should be purchased in advance.

Every day of the royal will feature the Flower Show, Food Shows, Historical Displays and Commercial Exhibits, plus many other events.

So pick a day, and attend the 1978 Royal Agricultural Winter Fair - Canada's "Show Window of Agriculture."

Excavation work begins at Canadian National Railway Station. The 100-year structure is undergoing a facelifting. Workers started removing earth from around the foundation Monday. The Haliburton Guild of Fine Arts will move into its new headquarters next spring.

Snowdon will investigate children using Minden arena

Snowdon township council plan to calculate the number of children from the township who use the Minden Community Centre before deciding upon an annual contribution towards the cost of operating the centre.

Anson, Hindon and Minden township council sent letters to surrounding municipalities last September asking for contributions to help offset operating costs.

Snowdon council decided at its October 11 meeting to contribute $50 now while investigating an annual contribution.

Snowdon wants figures on the number of children from the township participating in the minor hockey and figure skating programs and a copy of the financial statement from Anson, Hindon and Minden before reaching a decision on a yearly contribution.

In other business, council:

- discussed the recent purchase of lots in Lot 11, Concession 1 with N. Master-son, brushing out of a road allowance with L. Walker and insurance with Frank Cowan.

- approved payment of a $3,173.56 road voucher.

- accepted the application of D. Gilbert for the position of road superintendent's helper.

- accepted a quotation from Ontario Hydro of $415 to change two stub poles and anchors on Lot 25, Concession XIII.

- ordered 33 tons of high-way coarse salt from Domet Chemical Group at $21.39 a ton.

- purchased crushed gravel from E. and E. Seegmiller at a quoted price of $1.80 a yard.

- asked the roads superintendent to furnish council with a roads need estimate for construction for 1979.

- donated $15 to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

- approved the municipal statement of planning policy for Snowdon.

- set the rates of remuneration for officials for the municipal elections.

- withdrew a condition imposed on a land severance application because the property does not abut on the township road.

- approved three land severance applications.

- approved the general accounts of $28,434.68 and welfare of $560.78 for September.

making more food or hunting laws could be changed to cut down on population.

There is a lot of stress put on the lakes in this area because most of them are heavily fished. We are helped greatly because the Ministry of Natural Resources stocks and takes care of our lakes. A fish can't survive in just water; it has to be the right temperature and the proper pH balance.

The Ministry of Natural Resources is trying hard to preserve our wildlife, fish and forests but it takes co-operation from the people too. This means learning more and obeying hunting and fishing laws as well as forest protection laws.

Craft Talk

By Louisa Rush

Last year, a friend of mine had such a lovely idea at Christmas, but unfortunately it was too late to tell you about it in my column in time. I did mention it, but for my new readers I will describe it again.

It was an "Advent Christmas Tree" and such a lovely idea for the festive season, and one the whole family can help to make and decorate.

The dark green felt silhouette shape of a Christmas tree had been mounted on a large cardboard shape which had first been covered with ercu linen. The board was approximately two feet six inches high and about eighteen to twenty inches wide. The Christmas Tree shape filled the entire board.

Now you will need a quarter of a yard of the Velcro tape for attaching the decorations. This as you know comes double, one side of the Velcro has to be on the tree, while the other side of the tape is attached to an ornament.

For the ornaments, shapes were cut from plastic trays which the meat from the super markets are sold on. And here you can let your imagination run riot! There were all shapes of Christmas baubles, snowmen, Santa's head, sleigh, teddy bear, rocking horse, an old fashioned lady's high laced boot, a blue bird and so on.

Bits of felt, beads, pearls and sequins, along with gold and silver cord and rick-rack braid, and in some cases embroidery, glued to the plastic shapes, made it all very gay and colourful. You will need twenty-four in all, one for each day of Advent, and will be the big white tinsel star for the top of the tree.

Small pieces, about a quarter of an inch of one side of the Velcro tape was glued to the back of each ornament, while the other side of the tape was placed at an appropriate place on the tree.

Beginning on December the first, each day after the evening meal, the children each took turns of choosing an ornament and placing it on the tree. Then on Christmas eve before bedtime, mother placed the big white star on the top of the tree, and it was ready and complete for Santa to see!

It is the little things and traditions that linger in our memories long after our childhood is over, so I and my friend are so happy to share this idea with you.

Second Section

EDITOR'S NOTE:

With less than two weeks until the November 13 municipal elections, The Haliburton County Echo presents a brief story on each candidate. The information should help the voters familiarize themselves with the more than 80 participants running in the various municipalities. The Echo this week presents candidates from Anson, Hindon and Minden, Dysart et al, Stanhope and Glamorgan townships. Next week, the remainder of the candidates will be presented.

Presenting the candidates ...

Anson, Hindon and Minden candidates

Reeve candidates

Veteran incumbent reeve, Reg Booth will be again running for the position of reeve of Anson, Hindon and Minden.

The 65-year old businessman has served as both councillor and reeve in the township off and on now for 22 years. Mr. Booth's aims in the upcoming term is to "consolidate what the township has spent."

"We must see this term as a time of restraint and recovery from the amount of money we have spent."

Sinclair Nesbitt will be challenging Booth in his bid for reeve of Anson, Hindon and Minden. The 55-year old former reeve of Stanhope township served there for two years on council and 10 years as reeve. Mr. Nesbitt is a farmer and belongs to the Masonic Lodge in Minden.

Grants are something Mr. Nesbitt would like to take more advantage of if he were elected.

"If you're smart, you can create growth through these grants that are open to us from the provincial and federal government."

Mr. Nesbitt says he would also like to see council meetings held at night on alternating council nights in order to allow the public a chance to attend.

Deputy reeve candidates

For deputy-reeve in Anson, Hindon and Minden township, J.O. Jackson will be making his bid. The 57-year old real estate broker served as councillor on Anson, Hindon and Minden council during the period of 1959 to 1963.

Mr. Jackson is a former Kinsmen, a member of the K40 Club, and the president of the Minden Curling Club.

Mr. Jackson says he is concerned that the tax apportionment, throughout the county is "unfair", particularly in Anson, Hindon and Minden township.

He says that, if elected, he will attempt to examine the method of property assessment in the area, and try to keep taxes consistent with the present.

"We can't afford luxury items - not at this time," he said.

Councillor candidates

Anson, Hindon and Minden councillor Al Coneybear will be running for the position of councillor again this year. Mr. Coneybear, a 38-year old businessman, is past president of the Minden Rotary Club. He has served on council for 3 terms.

He says he would like to see, if elected, all three townships which are incorporated into Anson, Hindon and Minden "brought together" in a fashion which would allow no disparity in any area.

"The people in Carnarvon, for instance, feel they've been left out or forgotten and I'd like to show them that they're not. I'm interested in all three townships."

Mr. Coneybear says that he is also interested in senior citizen's housing in the area, and if elected, would like to see projects of this type implemented.

Incumbent councillor for Anson, Hindon and Minden township Len Lonsberry will be running for the position again for this term. The 53-year old store supervisor has been on council for two years and served 12 years on the school board. He also served as chairman on that board for 2 years.

Mr. Lonsberry was past master of the Masonic Lodge in Minden and is a 27-year member of the Canadian Legion.

He would like to make an attempt, if elected, at getting the assessment structure changed in the township.

"People on fixed incomes can't afford the taxes - they're just too high." Mr. Lonsberry would also try to beautify the area and make people "more welcome - people always want to stay longer at a nice, clean place."

Newcomer S.C. Brandon will also make his bid as councillor. Mr. Brandon, who is a 29-year old business partner, is currently vice-president of the Rotary Club in Minden and vice-president of the Minden Businessman's Association.

The issue Mr. Brandon would pursue if elected is keeping spending to a minimum in the township.

"We must hold the line on spending in the municipality and say 'no'."

Mr. Brandon says that he would also like council to take full advantage of the grants offered by the federal and provincial governments. He would also, if elected, attempt to make the public more aware of the happenings in council.

Another candidate running for the position of Anson, Hindon and Minden councillor is Mike Vuksic, a 40-year old storeowner. Mr. Vuksic is a member of the Kinsmen and was on the board of directors for the Chamber of Commerce for two years.

If elected to council, Mr. Vuksic plans to suggest to attempt to bring light industry into the community. More specifically, he says that a small furniture factory would be most beneficial since "there is the right kind of wood in the area."

Mr. Vuksic would also, if elected, look into the taxes in the township.

The lone woman candidate running for councillor in Anson, Hindon and Minden is 53-year old homemaker, Helen Johnson.

Mrs. Johnson, who was a councillor for one term in 1975-76 in the township, is a member of the Minden Ambulance Service, and has been the president of the Red Cross Association for four years. She is also secretary-treasurer of the Minden Agricultural Society, and a member of the Haliburton County Livestock Producer's Association.

Mrs. Johnson's main concern is "not everyone in this township is in the tourist industry and therefore, we have nothing really to offer the people who aren't in the business. I would like to see a light subsidy industry come into the area."

If elected, Mrs. Johnson

says she would try to ensure that the ratepayer's money would be spent in a fashion to be beneficial to all the taxpayers in the community.

Incumbent councillor Lyle McKnight will be in the race again this term. The 49-year old contractor has served on Anson, Hindon and Minden council for the past term, and is a life-member of the Kinsmen.

Mr. McKnight would like to, if elected, see the arena run much more efficiently. He would also like to see the county planning strategy implemented as soon as possible and to see all other projects which the council has started completed during the next term.

"But we're going to have to tread lightly with the funds," he said.

Board of Education candidates

Six-year veteran board of education trustee Lloyd Johnson will be running again as trustee on the board. Mr. Johnson is 56-years old and is a postmaster's assistant. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge in Minden, a member of Boy Scouts of Canada, and a member of St. John of Jerusalem.

If elected to the board, Mr. Johnson says he would attempt to concentrate on the problems of declining enrolment and continue to implement programs to cut costs without the board itself.

Another board of education incumbent, Don Booth, will be seeking re-election with the board. The 40-year old Minden businessman has been on the board for two years now, and is a member of and past president of the Kinsmen Club. He has also been on the Minden fire department for 15 years.

"It's hard to think of any issues to concentrate on," said Mr. Booth. "I've been quite happy with the board's operation in this one term I've been serving, and I'm just now getting to know how it is functioning."

A 44-year old store clerk, Mrs. Yvonne Penney, will also be running for board of education trustee. Mrs. Penney is vice-president of the United Church Women's Auxiliary in Carnarvon.

She will be campaigning mainly on the bussing issue in the township.

"I don't think they give enough authority to the drivers. People should respect the judgement of the drivers and their decisions."

Mrs. Penney, if elected, would not favour the implementation of separate schools in the area.

Dysart et al candidates

Harold Bannon, veteran councillor and incumbent deputy reeve for Dysart et al, will be running for the position again. Mr. Bannon, 64, has spent nine years as councillor in Ward 1 and two years as deputy reeve. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge in Haliburton, the Orange Lodge, the Canadian Legion and the Haliburton Senior Citizens Club.

Mr. Bannon stated that he will mainly be standing on his past record, but there are some projects he would like to see completed as elected deputy reeve.

"I would greatly like to see the C.N. Park become a reality, and to continue development in the Globe Centennial Park to complement the museum project."

Mr. Bannon also said, that if elected, he would pursue, with the Ministry of Housing, the 23 low rental housing units that have already been surveyed and approved.

Haliburton resident, Tim Casey, is challenging incumbent Harold Bannon for the post of deputy-reeve in the November 13 municipal elections.

A member of the Legion executive for the past four years, he is president of Haliburton - Victoria County Truckers Association. He also serves on the executive of minor hockey and is a member of the board of directors of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce.

He said he is interested in the senior citizens receiving more co-operation, wants low rental housing for the township, and a day-care centre established. He is concerned about the administration of local recreation facilities and the lack of long and short range planning in the county roads department.

Councillor candidates

In Dysart et al township, Roy Brohm, a veteran incumbent councillor for Ward 1, will be running for that position one more time. Mr. Brohm, 72, started as a councillor in 1952 and reports that he has "been off and on" since then. He looks after logging operations for a company in the area.

Mr. Brohm says that there is no real issue he will be campaigning on, however, if elected, he would work to see that industry, regardless of size, comes into the township.

"It was through our efforts that Martin Luther is in the township," said Mr. Brohm. He said that he would also wish to see the main street in Haliburton re-constructed from the hospital to the downtown core, as well as the completion of the senior citizens apartments.

In Ward 2, incumbent councillor Gary McKnight, who has served on council for two terms, will be running again.

The 37-year old businessman is a volunteer ambulance driver for the township, and is a member of the Lake Kawagami Tourist Association. He has also been involved with minor hockey for 14 years.

"I'm interested mainly in anything that will create employment," says Mr. McKnight.

He added that "there are not that many issues here" but he would continue to see that Haliburton village "will go ahead" in the years to come.

A 30-year old newcomer, Mike Easton, will be making a bid as councillor in Ward 1.

Mr. Easton is a local store owner and belongs to the Haliburton Businessman's Association.

Mr. Easton would like to, if elected, investigate industrial possibilities. He would also attempt to keep the local tax dollars down, he said.

Bob Nichol, a Haliburton native, is seeking a seat in Ward two on Dysart et al township council in the upcoming municipal elections.

Although he has no previous municipal experience, he would like to see light industry attracted to Haliburton. He wants all the projects, which the present council has initiated, completed.

The 26-year-old resident is vice-president of the local Kinsmen club and chairman of Haliburton minor hockey.

Although he has worked on provincial election campaigns, it is his first venture in the political arena.

Nichol is employed part-time at the local liquor board outlet and Brewer's Retail warehouse.

Board of Education candidates

Len Salvatori, who has been on the board for 16 years, and chairman 4 times, will be seeking re-election once again.

The 48-year old body shop manager has been president of Haliburton Minor Hockey for two years, and is a member of the local cub pack.

Mr. Salvatori is not campaigning on any specific issue, and is basically running on "what we've accomplished at the board."

"But," added Mr. Salvatori, "we have to watch the tax dollar at this time of restraint."

Earl Cooper, who has been on the board for two years, will also seek re-election.

The 51-year old farmer is a member of the Masonic Lodge in Haliburton, as well as an associate member of the Legion. He is also the pipe-major for the Haliburton Legion Pipe Band.

Mr. Cooper is not running on any specific issue either. But he adds the board has been trying and will try, if elected, "to get the best education for the tax dollars we're spending."

Appointed school board incumbent Tom Little will seek to be elected into that position. The 30-year old poultry farm employee is the vice-president of the Ladies Softball League and is third vice-president of the Lions Club in Haliburton.

Mr. Little also reports that he "hasn't any particular axe to grind" and is mainly campaigning on his past record over the last term.

Chamber of Commerce manager, Bob Stinson will be making his bid for Dysart et al school board trustee. The 45-year old past president of the Haliburton Minor Hockey Association says that he "doesn't have any personal axe to grind" and, if elected, "will get the best value out of the taxpayer's dollar."

Mr. Stinson says that there is a marked increase in the number of students coming out of high school "without a great sense of direction." If elected, he says that he would like to see the problem investigated.

Mr. Stinson is no relation to Nancy Stinson who is running for school board trustee also.

Another newcomer, Derrell Stamp, will be running for school board trustee also. Mr. Stamp, who is a 24-year old building official for Dysart et al municipality, is also a candidate who has no issue to run on.

"I'm very interested in the board," said Mr. Stamp, "and I'd like to ensure that the kids and the taxpayers are getting the most out of education."

Nancy Stinson, a newcomer to the candidate field for the board of education, will be making her bid in the election.

At 29, Mrs. Stinson is a housewife and a member of the local bowling club. "I'd like to give a try at a little bit better education at a little less money," stated Mrs. Stinson.

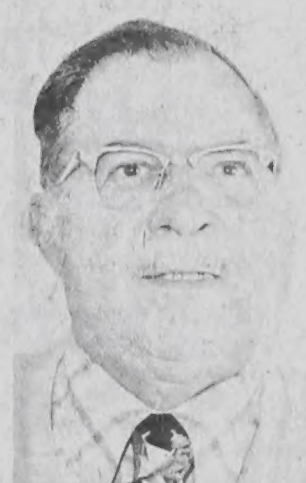

Too much money, she said, is spent on small, individual objects, and if elected, Mrs. Stinson will attempt to cut back on these expenditures.

Newcomer to the candidacy of school board trustee is 51-year old Bryan Abbs. Mr. Abbs is a sales clerk and is a Legion member as well as being involved in minor hockey.

Mr. Abbs says he too has no particular issue he is running on, and simply said that "I feel there should be new faces and new ideas on the board - that's what democracy is all about."

Newcomer board candidate Bill Davis will be seeking election as trustee also. The 36-year old advertising manager says he is "indebted" to Haliburton, and would like to "continue the high quality of education we have now at the lowest possible cost to the taxpayer."

Mr. Davis is not campaigning on any specific issue.

Stanhope candidates

Reeve candidates

Seeking the position of reeve in Stanhope municipality will be 59-year old newcomer Bill Barber. He is retired, and the main proposal Mr. Barber is offering is to "run the township on a more business-like footing." Mr. Barber, if elected, would seek to use funds from the budget of the Stanhope fire department as payment to the firefighters themselves, in order that the department could be run in a business-like fashion. Mr. Barber says that he would attempt to review the township budget and "exercise close control of expenditures." He says that he is not in favour of airport expansion, and feels the 66-ft. road allowance should "be deeded to the cottager whose property is adjacent to it."

If elected, Mr. Harrison would try to keep the 66-ft. road allowance remaining in the hands of the municipality, however, he would "give more control over the allowance of the land by the adjacent cottager than at present."

Mr. Harrison says that he would also like to see a closer liaison between the Stanhope fire department and council.

Deputy reeve candidates

For the position of deputy reeve in the township, 62-year old Douglas Cruthers will be making his bid.

The retired Stanhope resident, if elected, would review appointments to the fire department and try to have proper rules and regulations for the department drawn up.

He says he is not in favour of any airport expansion, but "will improve the airport as it needs it."

Concerning the restricted area bylaw, Mr. Cruthers believes that "shoreline residents should have the same privileges as other residents regarding the occupation of accommodations."

Challenging Mr. Cruthers for the position of deputy reeve is Elgin Stouffer. Mr. Stouffer, if elected, would advocate paying a long stretch of highway (two miles) rather than patching an area which is in bad need of repair if that road is heavily travelled. He says that he would also cut back on the purchase of the amount of machinery for the roads.

Mr. Stouffer says that he would not increase airport expenditures, and would advocate cutting down on the amount of fires in the township by "getting the fire hazards out of the road" (through smoke detectors in the home or fire extinguishers).

Councillor candidates

Incumbent councillor Harry Davis, who has served on council for two years, will be seeking re-election. Mr. Davis is a member of the Maple Lake Cottager's Association.

If elected, Mr. Davis says that he would propose removing "all the so-called offenders until they, through dialogue, resolve themselves."

Mr. Davis also maintains that the present airport facilities are satisfactory, and no expansion is needed. He would also, if elected, suggest to council to deed the 66 ft. road allowance to property owners.

Another incumbent councillor, Elvin Johnson, will be vying for his re-election. Mr. Johnson has served 6 years on the Stanhope school board and 10 years as a councillor. He is also a member of the Stanhope fire department.

"What remains of the 66 ft. road allowance should be turned over to the abutting property," said Mr. Johnson. The fire department, he says, has been subjected to "growing pains", and he feels the problems the department has encountered recently will solve itself and "will settle down to our original selves again."

Running also for council is Roger Woods, a 36-year old computer programmer. Mr. Woods is a member of the Stanhope fire department, a member of the Maple Lake Property Owner's Association, and is the treasurer of the Haliburton County Mutual Fire Aid Association.

He admits that he has not studied the issues in detail, however, Mr. Woods says, if elected he would attempt to draft rules and regulations for the fire department to follow.

Mr. Woods also does not favour expansion of the airport, but, he said, would spend money on updating existing facilities.

A former councillor, Albert Rawlins, will try his hand again at running for council. Mr. Rawlins is retired and says that he "questions the advisability of upgrading the airport." Mr. Rawlins, if elected, said he would try "to keep what we have now in A1 condition."

He says that rigid guidelines should be set up for the fire department, and would propose barring the fire and deputy chiefs from the Stanhope Firefighters Association making their responsibilities rest entirely with the handling of the personnel.

Mr. Rawlins believes that "many benefits" will come out of the land use bylaw.

Glamorgan candidates

Reeve candidates

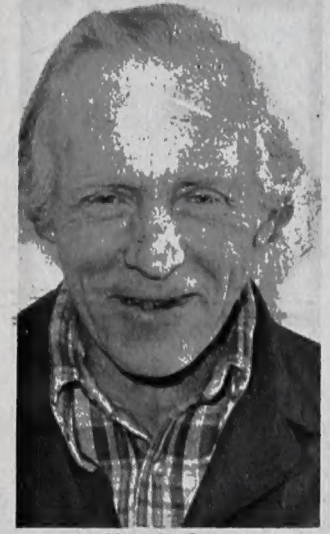

Incumbent reeve for Glamorgan township Robert Fotheringham will be running to capture his fourth term in office. The 60-year old Fenelon Falls baker is campaigning on his past record of accomplishments in the township, but reports that "I'm now interested in getting this park (Gooderham park) completed."

Mr. Fotheringham would also like to see a home for senior citizens built in the township, he says, and a building location for concerts and related issues.

Challenging Mr. Fotheringham for the position of reeve will be 65-year old Gordon Yewman. Mr. Yewman, who is retired, is a member of the Haliburton Legion and belongs to the pipe band there. He is also a member of the Rod and Gun Club in Gooderham.

Gordon Yewman

Glen Graham

Mr. Yewman says that the main issue he is concerned about is the lack of initiative by council in snowplowing senior citizen's driveways.

"This should be done because a lot of the senior citizens can't clear their own drives."

Larry Hunter, who has served four years on council and two years as deputy reeve in the township, will be seeking the position of reeve in this election.

The 30-year old lumberyard manager is mainly campaigning on his past experience on council, but says that "this is the first year we've ever really got anything solid done, and we've got to keep going on it."

Mr. Hunter's main concern, if elected as reeve, will be the new park being constructed in Gooderham and zoning.

Councillor candidates

The only woman running for councillor in Glamorgan township will be 31-year old housewife, Beverley MacDuff.

The biggest issue in Mrs. MacDuff's mind is road supervision. She said that a road supervisor should "be the one to look after the books and money and so on - it shouldn't be up to council."

Mrs. MacDuff would also, if elected, attempt to push to have pensioner's driveways cleared of snow in the winter time by the municipality. Mrs. MacDuff added that she would look into the possibility of subsidizing this plowing through a provincial grant or loan.

She says that garbage pick-up by the municipality is something that, if elected, she would give consideration to.

Newcomer Dennis Traviss will be entering the candidacy for councillor for Glamorgan township also.

The 29-year old truck driver says there is no specific platform he is campaigning on, however, he said that he will "try to do my best for the township."

James Crocker, a 26-year old electronics technician, is also running for the position of councillor.

Mr. Crocker says that he too, is not campaigning on any specific issue.

"I'll certainly have more power to help the township now if I'm councillor than if I'm not," said Mr. Crocker.

Social worker, Joe Fecht is also entering his bid for councillor in the township. Mr. Fecht, 35, is a member of the Social Planning council.

He says that he is more interested in more recreation in the area, and, if elected, will look into the possibility of more social services in the area.

"It's something I think we could use a little more of," he said.

Mr. Fecht reports that he would want "further public discussion" on the county planning strategy. He also advocates, if elected, public consultation on large, capital expenditure projects.

Former Glamorgan councillor Glen Bird, who was on council for two years two terms ago, will be running again this year for the position of councillor.

Mr. Bird, 40, is employed by the Ministry of Natural Resources and is a volunteer firefighter in Gooderham.

"I certainly want to see a better road system and better utilization of the equipment," said Mr. Bird.

He said that Glamorgan township constitutes the highest taxes in the county, and if elected, Bird said that he would examine the matter.

Incumbent councillor Robert McCausland, will be seeking re-election this year. The 35-year old plumber has served on council now for two years. He is a member of the Recreation Club and the fire department in Gooderham.

Mr. McCausland, if elected, says he will try to get banks, a liquor store and "anything else that will help bring people in."

He also feels that senior citizens in the township should have better treatment by the municipality.

Contractor Glen Graham is seeking the position of councillor also. The 48-year old former councillor sat on council four years prior to last term and was roads superintendent for the municipality nine years prior to that.

Mr. Graham would like to see "better management over roads instead of letting things go haywire."

If elected, he says the roads would be the priority issue.

A newcomer to the candidacy of councillor is 25-year old Jack Billings. Mr. Billings is self-employed and belongs to the Glamorgan fire department and is associated with minor hockey in Wilberforce.

Mr. Billings would also like to re-examine the roads system in the township.

"I'd like to know where all the money is going to repair the roads and make sure it is spent on roads instead of something else."

If elected, Mr. Billings says he would check into figures on the park and assess its development. He would also, he says, like to see the council examine more possibilities of establishing recreational facilities around the township.

Sorry we couldn't get them all!

These are a list of the candidates running in the townships mentioned who could not be reached by deadline:

- Kenneth MacGuire, who is running for Glamorgan councillor.

- Robert Gorrie, who is running for Anson, Hindon and Minden deputy reeve.

- Doug Pritchard (incumbent), who is running again for Anson, Hindon and Minden deputy reeve.

- Barbara Bolin, who is running for board of education trustee in Dysart et al township.
